Evidence of Butler's rapid expansion is seen in the construction of the beautiful College of Religion building which is to be completed by the fall semester of nineteen hundred forty-one.

Campus Interviews

QUESTION:

Did you know that Butler has, since 1850, gone under three names?

ANSWER: Its original name was the Northwestern Christian University. later it was changed to Butler College and then took its present name of Butler University.

QUESTION: How many acres are on the present Fairview Campus?

ANSWER: There are 246 acres composed of the Arthur Jordan Hall, various athletic fields, botanical gardens, and wooded sections along the canal.

Co-Ed Chatter

Hilton U. Brown

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

Board of Directors

Progress and achievement, those twin pillars in the foundation of Butler University, vividly bring the center of attention to our Board of Directors, that body of 20 members, directing the policies of the university, and providing ways and means for the maintenance of the institution.

Through the foresight and generosity of these men and women another beautiful building has been added to our 246 acres of rolling campus. Construction of the new $250,000 College of Religion Building, which started last December was largely made possible by a gift of $100,000 by Mr. William G. Irwin, Columbus, a member of the Board and chairman of the building committee, and through the untiring efforts of J. W. Atherton, secretary-treasurer of the university, who raised $150,000 among Disciples of Christ Church members of the state.

Unending are the efforts of this body to build a better Butler for the future. In 1920 the Board of Directors, realizing the necessity of increasing the endowment and providing new buildings, appointed a financial secretary, J. W. Atherton, and opened a downtown business office. At this time the assets of the university were approximately $600,000. Largely to Butler's "Jack" Atherton, goes the credit of increasing the assets of the school from that small figure to about $6,000,000 today's assets. The move to the Fairview campus in 1928 and the Arthur Jordan Memorial hall stand as achievements to his splendid work and that of other members of the Board.

Heading this group of distinguished citizens is Hilton U. Brown, Chairman, who has served the school for more than 50 years. Known to all for his loyalty, devotion, and wise leadership of his alma mater, Mr. Brown has endeared himself to all Butler alumni.

Death took Dr. James W. Putnam, President Emeritus of the University, and Judge John A. Titsworth, members of the Board.

The present membership of the Board consists of Mr. Brown, President; Emsley W. Johnson, Vice-president; Mr. Irwin, President of Butler Foundation; Mr. Atherton, Secretary-Treasurer; Crate D. Bowen, Miami, Fla.; Arthur V. Brown; Lee Burns; Earl Crawford, Connersville, Ind.; Edwin Errett, Cincinnati, Ohio; George A. Frantz; John L. H. Fuller; Glen R. Hillis, Kokomo, Ind.; J. I. Holcomb; Hugh T. Miller, Columbus, Ind.; John F. Mitchell, Greenfield, Ind.; Peter C. Reilly; Mrs. A. M. Robertson; W. A. Shullenberger, Dr. D. S. Robinson, President of the University and Evan B. Walker, Alumni Representative. The latter two men were appointed this year.

ANSWER: This distinction is given to Hilton U. Brown, who has served the university for fifty-two years, and has been chairman of the Board of Directors since 1903.

Our President

DR. DANIEL S. ROBINSON

Upon graduation from Butler in 1910, President Daniel S. Robinson, who had trained for the ministry, was ordained that same year into the Christian Church. Since that eventful time he has served as Lieutenant in the Chaplain's Corps of the U.S. Navy during the World War, as a member of the Philosophy department of the University of Wisconsin from 1919 to 1922; at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, from 1922 to 1929, and as head of the Department of Philosophy at Indiana University from 1929 to 1939, and at the present time is serving as President of this university. During his early religious career, Dr. Robinson continued his ministry in churches located in Montana, New Hampshire, and many other states. He has attended such institutions of learning as Yale, Harvard, and Breslau University in Germany. Two of the honors he has been awarded are the Bowdin Essay Prize, while a student at Harvard in 1916, and the Lit. D. honorary degree at Marietta College in 1937.

During the two years that President Robinson has held office at Butler, he has proven himself worthy and capable by doing great things for Butler. He is a progressive leader and an enthusiastic worker for the benefit of the school and its students. Because of his determined manner and leadership, he has already introduced several new ideas. Outstanding among these are the freshmen sponsorship program which guides freshmen upon their entrance to Butler and the new required courses in citizenship and hygiene. He is also the originator of the annual all-school Halloween and Valentine parties and the executive force which pushed forward plans for the student lounge which is now a reality. His whole-hearted interest in the activities of the student body and his willingness and eagerness to please them as a group has won President Robinson the loyalty and friendship of every student on Butler's campus. Three cheers for our president!

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

The head of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is Dean Gino A. Ratti. Dean Ratti strives constantly to provide fundamental scientific and cultural training for the students enrolled in this college. A wide variety of subjects may be had, all of which contribute materially to the knowledge needed in all walks of life. The Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Bachelor of Music, are the degrees conferred by the college upon the students completing the four year curricula. The M.A. Graduate degree is given also by this college.

College of Business Administration.

The College of Business Administration is under the able guidance of Dean Maurice O. Ross. The objective of the college is to provide training in business and journalism for careers in these fields, and to show the responsibilities that are entailed in this work. The College of Business Administration confers the degrees of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Science in Journalism, and the graduate degree of Master of Science in Business Administration.

College of Religion.

Dean Frederick D. Kershner, of the College of Religion at Butler University, maintains the graduate school to train students for the ministry and other forms of religious activities. The college offers many professional and cultural opportunities, and confers the graduate degrees of Bachelor of Divinity and Master of Theology. The graduate degrees of Master of Arts and Master of Science in Religion, in addition to the undergraduate degree of Bachelor of Arts in Religion, are also given.

College of Education.

The College of Education, headed by Dean Phillip M. Bail, has as its objectives the training of teachers for kindergarten, elementary, and high schools, and for supervisory and administrative educational positions. The college furnishes the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Master of Science in Education to students accomplishing the required work. The college was founded at Butler University in 1930, and has grown and widened the scope of its activities since that time.

BARBARA PHELPS	Vice-President
ALLAN DREYER	Treasurer
BETTY ROSE MARTIN	Secretary
MAX WILDMAN	President

Emerging in full splendor from a four year chrysalis, the robed members of the class of '41 marched with a measured commencement tread to the ominous rumble of war drums. Yours is no ordinary quest, you have been entrusted with the sacred task, by all Christian people, of helping to foster and to recreate the forces of righteousness to a World in which many men bear the heavy yoke of oppression.

The senior classmen, attired their traditional garb of cords and jackets, fostered several notable activities. Principal objective of these senior sponsored events was the preservation of the many traditions of Butler which they have learned to love and revere during their four-year sojourn. Senior class officers were: president, Max Wildman; vice-president, Allan Dreyer; secretary, Barbara Phelps; and Betty Rose Martin, treasurer.

Formal Garden

What used to be and what is now may be referred to as the Fairview Amusement Park of many years ago and the Fairview campus of Butler today. Acres of amusement including a merry-go-round, concession stands, a deer park, a pony track, a band stand, with many other features have all been transformed into the halls of knowledge. One of the many campus features today that has not been transformed from the old park is the formal garden just north of Jordan Hall. This garden with the fountain and fish pond was an added attraction after Butler was moved north from Irvington.

Many a Sunday afternoon, in spring, summer, or autumn, one could find laughing children in colorful array accompanied by their parents, and young couples with locked arms taking advantage of the recreation the park had to offer.

A band stand was located north of the formal garden with the deer park northeast, and the concession stands near. A diving tank was located at what is now the southeast corner of Jordan Hall. The snow white horses, King and Queen, were featured weekly in their daring act into a water tank from a ramp several feet above. Benches and picnic grounds could be seen in various places about the park. On top of the north ridge, overlooking the canal, now the present site of the College of Religion building, were the merry-go-rounds, with a restaurant to satisfy hungry patrons. Below this point, a bowling alley was situated.

The present Botanical Gardens farther north on the campus, with its extensive lawns and flower beds, is a very different place from the wilderness that preceded it, which was originally the site of a famous pony track. Here the youth of Indianapolis used to ride in the olden days. It has long been abandoned for the gardens and even the road has disappeared.

Fairview Park was sold to Butler in 1924 when it was abandoned by the Indianapolis Railroad Company. In the fall of 1928 the Butler University of today took over its new campus location which has still kept the old name, the Fairview campus.

The Junior Class contributed many outstanding members not only to athletics but to various campus activities. It promises well to uphold the dignity of the first wearers of the cap and gown of Butler University.

The "Prom," the climax of the social year, was in no way overshadowed by any previous school dances.

Through untiring efforts on the part of the committee in charge, of which Paul McClellan was chairman, this dance held on April 18 will long be remembered.

The president of the class was Richard Fruechtenicht; Doris Brabender served as vice-president; John Petrie took care of the class treasury; and Mary Kershner wrote the class minutes.

"Not a rhine yet still not an upperclassman" is the expression which so aptly explains the sophomore student's "midway" dilemma. Nevertheless, with half of their college career already belonging to their memories, these students have had firmly implanted within them the love of their alma mater and a desire to accept the responsibility of leadership that is their heritage from the shoulders of the junior and senior predecessors.

The annual Sophomore Cotillion was held February 28 at the Murat Temple. It featured the Indiana University band of Warpy Waterfall which competed with Irv Given's Purdue University band in a "battle of swing". Co-chairmen of the event were Bill Mortimer and Ben Sturm. Three fight captains were chosen by the class to lead the victorious sophomore "legions" in the annual freshman-sophomore fight. They were: Herb Dellaven, Scott Dukes, and John Heflin.

At the helm of the Sophomore Class was Bill "Deacon" McDonald; Marian Wilcox, vice-president; John Heflin, treasurer; and Virginia Price, secretary.

Not one student received a diploma from Butler college from 1894 to 1905. No, the school wasn't being stingy with the sheepskins in this era, nor was there a dearth of senior students. There just wasn't any Butler college during this 11-year period.

Yes, we're well-acquainted with the fact that Butler was founded in 1848, but we still maintain there was no Butler college between 1894 and 1905. Surprised? Well, here's how it came about:

In 1894, Butler college affiliated with medical, dental, and law schools in Indianapolis, and changed its name to The University of Indianapolis. The students of the various schools united in school enterprises, making the name "university" a practical reality as well as a chartered fact.

What had formerly been The Butler Collegian, the school newspaper (in magazine form), now became the "University Brief". It also inaugurated weekly publication instead of the usual monthly printing.

Waving their university colors of royal purple and singing their favorite school song, "Vive la Varsity" (to the tune of "Vive la Compagnie"), the students of The University of Indianapolis trooped to school mass meetings and athletic events.

Between 1894 and 1905, seniors of what is now Butler University received diplomas headed with the name, "The University of Indianapolis".

Affiliation of the schools comprising The University of Indianapolis has never been broken officially, but the "University" died out in 1905 when the diplomas again carried the heading "Butler College".

Heading the Freshman class in an especially successful year were Howard Whitecotton, president; Margot Brown, vice-president; Mary E. Gessert, secretary; and Robert Goodwin, treasurer. Notable achievement of the year was the resurrection of an ailing freshman council. This formerly defunct organization was given a "shot in the arm" by proxy Whitecotton, and it figured prominently in the success of several Freshman sponsored school activities. Members were chosen from each fraternity and sorority and the B.I.A.

Miss Lucyanna Peterson reigned "queen supreme" over the annual Rose dance which was held at the Murat Temple with the music of Bob Barnes and his orchestra.

Freshman men were seen wearing their "rhinie pots" till the spring vacation deadline as mute testimony to their humiliating defeat in the annual Homecoming frosh-sophomore fight. Bill Fritz ably captained the valiant but "trampled" first year men.

Our faculty is the foundation upon which we students build the basis for our four years at Butler. From them we learn cooperation, leadership, and ideals. It is through their patient, diligent, and capable direction that hopeless confusion becomes well organized knowledge aiding us to prepare ourselves for the responsibilities to come. The interests of the faculty are not confined to the classroom, however, for they do not hesitate to come to the aid of students desiring their counsel.

Thus it is easy to see why the faculty has won the respect, admiration, and esteem of the student body.

Team*

When the College of Religion became a graduate school only, the Department of Religion assumed responsibility for all undergraduate religious courses. This Department, however, maintains a close relationship with the Graduate School. Most of the instructors in the Department are also members of the Graduate School Faculty. Students attend the College of Religion chapel and otherwise share in privileges made available by the Graduate School.

The Department provided guidance and pre-ministerial training for full time Christian leaders and courses which may be elected by students not majoring in the Department. The nearly one hundred major students this year have come from many different states and countries.

Through its activities the Gospel Team provide an opportunity for training through service and at the same time makes available significant and attractive special programs for numerous congregations.

College of Religion. Graduate School.

Butler University under its charter provides for the establishment of a number of separate colleges, or schools of instruction. The first of these, the College of Arts and Sciences, was the only school in the university up until 1924, when the second college, the School of Religion, was organized under a resolution passed by the Board of Directors of the University. It may be noted that the third school, the College of Education, was organized some six years later, and the fourth school, the College of Business Administration, was founded more than half a dozen years after the College of Education. The College of Religion at first involved both graduate and undergraduate courses the latter leading to the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Literature, and the graduate courses to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Work could also be taken in the college leading toward the Degree of Bachelor of Arts and the Master of Arts in Butler University. In 1939, the undergraduate work of the college in harmony with recommendations to all American seminaries, made by the American Association of Theological Schools, was transferred to the Department of Religion of the College of Arts and Sciences, and the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Literature was discontinued. The School of Religion, as it is now more correctly styled because of its purely graduate character, required an A.B. or its equivalent for admission. Three years of graduate work totaling ninety hours and arranged in accordance with the provisions published in the catalogue, together with a final comprehensive examination and a thesis, are required for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. A further year of graduate work also arranged in harmony with the program as published in the catalogue leads to the Degree of Master of Theology (Th.M.) and still further advanced study under the requirements arranged by the faculty and published in the bulletin, leads to the earned degree of Doctor of Theology, (Th.D.). The new equipment of the school provides for advanced research investigation of the latest and most approved pattern. Seminar rooms with highly specialized libraries and other aids to investigation, are provided for the use of the students. Special effort is made to secure all books and magazines which may be useful for the work of the college and many thousands of volumes have been added to the regular and special libraries during the past year.

Theta Phi

RELIGION FACULTY

The faculty of the College of Religion contains eight full time teachers and five part time instructors of lecturers. Next year, another part time instructor will be added. Included in the faculty list above are also the Librarian and the Placement Secretary of the College.

THETA PHI

Theta Phi, the only Honorary Theological Society, was instituted and a charter granted to the local Beta Charter at a special ceremony presided over by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, the national president of the Theta Phi Society, in June 1938. The charter members were Dean Kershner, Professor Bruce Kershner, Dr. T. W. Nakarai, Professor D. E. Walker, Dr. A. Holmes and Dr. L. von Gerdtehl.

ARTHUR JORDAN CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Music as an exalting influence in the life of the individual, the community, the state and the nation is the basic idea behind the broad and ever expanding program of Jordan Conservatory.

The Conservatory was founded by Mr. Arthur Jordan in 1928, by the amalgamation of the Metropolitan School of Music, organized in 1895, and the Indiana College of Music and Fine Arts.

The plan of Mr. Jordan was to develop the most outstanding conservatory of music and allied arts in the Middle West which has been successfully carried out by Miss Ada Bicking, conservatory director; Gerald V. Carrier, business manager; board of trustees of prominent citizens and a faculty of 81 experts functioning in eight different locations.

The conservatory is a member of the National Association of Schools of Music and affiliated with Butler University.

Activities

The Collegian, Butler's daily newspaper, has recorded the life of the university, day by day, for more than 55 years. Great events in the university's life and small ones, all have found their way onto the pages of The Collegian.

Work on The Collegian is, in a sense, entirely voluntary. Generally, the students who edit the paper are majoring in Journalism, but many of The Collegian staff members serve for the pleasure which the work affords them. They have no reward other than the enjoyment of extra-curricular activity.

COLLEGIAN

In general, there are two motives for publication of The Butler Collegian: first, to present a daily journal of Butler student-life, and secondly, to give journalism students an opportunity to work out problems of practical, every-day newspapering.

News of Butler students and faculty members has been reported by The Collegian during the past year with admirable success. The paper reached a high standard of excellence and completeness of coverage of Butler news which was enhanced further by use of United Press wire service facilities and numerous pictures. In this respect, the Collegian editors have followed the old saying that "one picture is worth 10,000 words" in presenting pictures of as many Butler events as facilities permitted.

Basically, the reporters have been the chief reason for the success of The Collegian this year. A fine staff of news-gatherers included Donnie Douglas, Pierre Chaillaux, Jeanne Gass, Bart Swope, Jean Kercheval, Mildred Reimer, Marianne Collins, Jean Kline, Jane Lewis, Mark Mast, Elizabeth Meyer, Norma Miller, Virginia Crawford, Thomas Scanlan, Myron Scarbrough, Nick Smyrnis, Margaret Terry and many others.

These reporters are the students who have "dug up" the news on the Butler campus and have written it up for The Collegian's columns. They are the "backbone" of The Collegian staff.

The Collegian was edited by two journalism students during this school year: by James Farmer of Indianapolis during the first semester, and by William Shipley of Evanston, Ill., in the second semester. Farmer is a senior in the Department of Journalism, while Shipley is a junior majoring in journalism.

Editorial staff members who have served The Collegian faithfully during one of its best years of publication are James Neal, Richard Mohr, Ross Christena, Helen Ruegamer, Ralph Iula, Joan Hixon, Sam Chernin, Jane Jordan, Joe Guennel, Betty Gordon, and Howard Whitecotton, business manager of the paper.

Acceptance of Butler journalism students by Indianapolis newspapers is apparent from the list of students who have received employment with local newspapers during the present school-year. They include Paul Squires, Indianapolis News, James Farmer, Indianapolis Star, Robert Schalk, Indianapolis News, and Myron Scarbrough, Indianapolis Star.

In looking back over a very successful year for The Collegian, we cannot help but predict a bright future for the newspaper in its next 55 years of publication.

QUESTION: What were the names of the old time literary societies?

ANSWER: Pythonian, Mathesian (for men), Anthemian (for women), Philokurian (for ministerial students), each had a hall of their own.

Editor-in-Chief
Business Manager

The Drift Staff of 1941 has published this yearbook in hopes that someday it may help you to recall the grand times of your college days. The general theme throughout has been an attempt to depict a cross section of student life by Personal Interviews in the form of questions and answers. We hope our attempts have met with your approval.

Our goal has been to bring you a timely book on time this year. Through the critical and helpful scrutiny of our faculty advisor, Professor Burdin, our deadlines have been met and our difficulties ironed out. As editor-in-chief, Charles Butz, has guided the staff in bringing the book to a successful conclusion. Herb Spencer, business manager, by careful budgeting has kept us out of the red. The untiring effort by Nina Switzer, associate-editor, has enabled a high degree of accuracy in both captions and copy. Mark Holeman, our art editor, has ably applied his artistic ability in creating unusually clever layouts and designs. Bob Main and Ann Losier proved to be two capable artists to assist Mark. The photography was handled by Dick Guy who by his unique and interesting shots has caught some of that spirit that is peculiar to the Butler Campus.

Robert Schalk, sports editor, took a man-sized job when he started the sports section, but he can always look back on a job well done. Other members of the staff who deserve recognition are as follows: Jane Mottern, Barbara Frederickson, and Orpha Mae McCue for their work on the editorial staff; Mary Marott and Jean Smelser in their efficient handling of the Drift Beauty Contest.

QUESTION—What publication preceded the Drift as the college yearbook?

ANSWER—"The Butler" published in 1877 with Charles Moore and Hilton U. Brown as editors.

JAMES NEAL,
Editor-in-Chief

Under the able guidance of Editor James Neal and Circulation Manager Richard Carson, the Bulldog, Butler University's humor magazine, opened its fourth year on the campus with a very successful subscription drive, in which the fraternity trophy was won by Phi Delta Theta and the sorority trophy by Kappa Kappa Gamma. Individual winners in the contest were Bill Pentecost and Joan Hixon.

The advertising staff for the year was headed by Advertising Manager Quentin Covert, and promotion by Promotion Manager Ross Christena with Dick Gwyn holding down the position of Staff Artist. The Bulldog featured among other things, a campus column "The Dog Watch," by Richard Mohr, an up-to-the-minute column on recordings, the "Wax Works," by Ross Christena, and a plentiful number of student contributions.

During the second semester, preceded by a sweeping re-organization of the entire staff, the department head remained the same, and the Bulldog featured its two annual elections, the B. M. O. C. and B. W. O. C. polls, a special Valentine issue, a special Relays issue and a Junior Prom issue.

QUESTION: What is the plan for the new theological school?

ANSWER: Strictly graduate school with a capacity for about 200 students.

Thespis

National Dramatic Honorary

Thespis, one of the most active groups on the campus, is the Collegiate dramatic honorary formed in 1929. Under the capable directorship of Mr. Fredrick Winter, the organization presented many successful plays this year. Among the plays given by Thespis members, and members of the Play Production class were: "Three Taps at Twelve," "Submerged," "Fiat Lux," and "The Tenth Word."

"Three Taps at Twelve," the major production was a mystery drama. "Submerged" centered around five men who faced death in a submarine. At Christmas the cast put on a Christmas miracle play, "Fiat Lux." The best comedy of the year was the play written for an all girl cast. "The Tenth Word" was played in two scenes taking place a hundred years apart.

The officers for the year were: Ralph Martz, president; Barbara Belknap, vice president; Barbara Frederickson, secretary; Jean Bushman, treasurer.

Thespis' greatest ambition is someday to have a theater separate from its subterranean location in the dungeon depths of Jordan Hall.

Entrance into the organization may be acquired by serving an apprentice membership of one year or of one semester if entered in the play production class.

QUESTION: How many activity honor societies do we have?

ANSWER: There are six; Blue Key; Scarlet Quill; Sphinx Club; Chimes; Utes; Club and Spurs.

Blue Key

Blue Key is the national senior men's honorary society, composed of fourth-year men who have gained recognition in college through scholarship, leadership, personality, and service to the school. Each year in March the members of Blue Key sponsor the Blue Key-Hole stunts, at which time the members for the ensuing year are announced. The initiation dinner-dance is held every year at the Ulen Country Club in Lebanon.

Blue Key sponsors a great round of activities during the school year. In addition to the Blue Key-Hole stunts already mentioned, the society sponsors the Annual Homecoming dance in collaboration with Scarlet Quill, senior women's honorary. A spring dance is also under the sponsorship of Blue Key.

Each year, at the end of the football season, the group stages a football banquet for the team, coach, student managers and others. At each banquet, a well-known sports authority is invited to speak. This season at the Athenaeum, "Potsy" Clark, one time coach at Butler and former coach of the Detroit Lions professional football team, spoke.

Professor C. B. Camp is the sponsor of Blue Key. The officers are: President, Steve Hack; Vice-president, Bill Crawford; Treasurer, Allen Dreyer.

Scarlet Quill

Scarlet Quill, senior women's honorary society, is made up of senior women who have been chosen for their scholarship, character, personality, leadership, and activities in school. It was founded on the Butler campus in 1921, and the group hopes some day to become the Mortar Board of other colleges and universities. Each year, on Honor Day, Scarlet Quill awards a scholarship for the junior year, to the sophomore girl with the highest scholastic average. The group works with Blue Key to direct house decoration activities on Homecoming Day; and also sells items for freshmen girls to wear at football games, for the purpose of increasing school spirit. The officers for the year are: Barbara Keiser, President; Betty Rose Martin, Vice-president; Dina Barkan, Secretary; Mary Bell, Treasurer. Mrs. Wesenberg is the sponsor.

QUESTION: How many private colleges were co-educational when Butler started?

ANSWER: Only one west of the Alleghenies.

Sphinx

The Sphinx Club, Junior mens honorary, had a very successful year climaxed by the Relay Dance.

Keeping in line with Butler University traditions, the club sponsored the sale of the familiar freshman "rhinie pots." Before the homecoming game the Sphinx sponsored the annual Freshman-Sophomore fight, the sophomores winning for the second straight year. The homecoming bonfire following the fight featured the presentation of a cup to the Sigma Nu fraternity for winning the wood gathering contest and also singing by fraternities and sororities.

Climax of the year was the Sphinx Relay Dance ably managed by James Neal club president. Joan Fox was presented a trophy and trophies were also presented to Lambda Chi Alpha, and Zeta Tau Alpha for their prize winning floats in the Relays Parade.

Other officers of the club were Max Armer, Vice-president; Wilbur Schumacher, Secretary; Quentin Covert, Treasurer; Gildas Metour served as faculty sponsor of the club.

Chimes

The girls in Chimes, the Junior honorary organization, can be recognized by their white jackets, with gold felt chimes sewed on the back, and by their white gold necklaces carrying miniature silver chimes. These girls are chosen on the basis of activity, scholarship, leadership, and character shown during their sophomore year.

One of their first activities of the year is a tea given for the girls transferring from other universities to Butler. This is to help them to get acquainted with the Fairview Campus.

The popular Wednesday afternoon tea dances were carried on throughout the year. Each dance was characterized by its own motif. There was a Christmas Tea Dance, a Valentines' Day Tea Dance, the Sadie Hawkins' Day Tea Dance and many others.

In the spring, the girls put on tuxedos and, using their best girl friends as dates, held their annual "Sweet-heart Dinner."

The monthly meetings of Chimes are held at the sorority houses. At these meetings, the girls have spreads and discuss various activities on the campus.

This year's officers of this very exclusive honorary organization were Mary Kershner, President; Gene Clarimont, Vice-president; Virginia Buchanan, Secretary; Magnolia DeHart, Treasurer. The sponsor is Mrs. Magdalene Davis.

Utes Club

Organized in 1930 for the purpose of fostering the various campus traditions, the Utes Club of Butler University enjoyed its usual successful year. Identifiable by their colorful headgear, the Utes members first big venture in fulfilling their club's purpose was the sponsoring of the annual Utes PowWow dance at which Charles Hepler was honored by being selected as "Big Chief Pow Wow" and was the recipient of a large trophy for that honor. With the advent of Homecoming, the members erected a greased pole for the annual Frosh-Sophomore fight. The scrap resulted in a complete rout of the fighting "frosh." The next activity of importance was the Utes Basketball Banquet held in the Campus Club in honor of the basketball squad and their successful season. Senior members of the team received gold basketballs for their service and the various blanket, letter and sweater awards were made to the members of the team. The banquet was well attended and the retiring senior members of the team were called upon for comments on the season's record.

Presiding over the club's ventures and reprimanding the prospective members in their many-colored blankets and brilliant feathers was Ross Stevens. Other officers were Seth Eliot, Vice-President; Bob Bensema, Secretary; Jack Schakleford, Treasurer.

Spurs Club

The Spurs club is the sophomore honorary for girls. The members can be identified by their white sweaters with the blue and white emblems pinned on the front. In order to be a member of Spurs, a girl must maintain a high grade-point average during her freshman year and take part in campus activities.

The many activities of this group include selling balloons at the home-coming football game, selling roses on the day of the Freshman Rose Dance and giving a Kiddie party during the latter part of the second semester.

The beautiful blue and white decorations displayed in the fieldhouse on the night of the Relays is a service of this club which is most appreciated by the school.

Mary Janet Mummert was president of this year's group, while Jane Lewis was vice-president, Frances Risk, Secretary and Sonya Schlee was Treasurer. Monthly spreads are held in the sorority houses by the members of Spurs.

QUESTION: When was the charter permitting the organization of Butler University granted?

ANSWER: In 1850 by the Indiana Legislature, but the doors of the college did not open until 1855.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Tau Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, during the past year has enjoyed one of the most active and colorful years in its history on the Butler campus.

The main purpose of the fraternity, service, has been well fulfilled during the past year as a resume of a few of the projects sponsored by this group will readily show. The campus was provided with trash containers at advantageous points, and a general clean-up campaign was initiated and carried through. Ushering was ably provided for all of the all-school convocations throughout the year. Alpha Phi Omega assisted the Sphinx Club in the sponsorship of the freshman-sophomore fight.

The highlight of the year's activity came with the Butler chapter acting as host to the eighth biennial National Convention of Alpha Phi Omega. More than 400 delegates from 92 chapters throughout the United States convened here in Indianapolis for a two day session at the Antlers Hotel on December 28, and 29.

The entire publicity program for the observance of the 31st anniversary of the founding of scouting in America was taken over by Alpha Tau chapter as a service to the Indianapolis and Central Indiana Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

With the presentation of the annual Thomas Carr Howe Award to the most outstanding Eagle Scout in the Indianapolis Council, Alpha Phi Omega wound up the activities of a very successful year on the Butler campus.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association is one of the oldest organizations at Butler. It was organized on the Irvington Campus in 1920. The purpose of this association is to provide an extensive intra-mural program for sports-minded coeds. They have annual and semi-annual contests in archery, tennis, ping pong, badminton, basketball, volleyball, baseball, hockey and shuffle board.

W. A. A. boasts of having some new activity each year. This year's new ideas included a women's track team and overnight, moonlight hikes.

Girls may become members in W. A. A. after gaining 100 points through participation in three sports. When a girl has accumulated 250 points, she is given her class numerals. The two highest awards are the Butler "B" given for 500 points, and the white sweater with the monogrammed "B" upon it, awarded for 1000 points.

The officers of this year's group were Mildred Young, president; Betty Foster, vice-president; Phyllis Jamieson, secretary; and Dorothy Overstreet, treasurer.

Miss Louise M. Schulmeyer of the Physical Education Department is the sponsor.

QUESTION: Do you know that once Prof. Ryland T. Brown, the distinguished chemist during the Civil War, addressed a class of empty seats one day?

Student Council

Student Council is the voice of the student on all legislative matters pertaining to student welfare. Membership is made up of three sophomores, three juniors, four seniors, gained through an all school election, and all hold over members of the previous Council. Under the capable leadership of Bill Ostlund aided by Eleanor Cook, secretary-treasurer, and Peggy Harbaugh, election chairman, the Student Council had a successful year.

All school elections were under the auspices of the elections committee which attempted to see that the political campaigns and voting were as free from politics as possible. Another activity of the year was the all school Christmas convocation sponsored by the Council.

The faculty sponsors for this year were Professors Sarah Sisson and Clyde Clark.

Alpha Delta Sigma

Alpha Delta Sigma, National Advertising Honorary fraternity, concluded its second year at Butler under its new reorganization plan. Nationally the organization is quite prominent in fraternal circles. And the Butler chapter has caught the eyes and praise of downtown business and advertising executives many times during the past year.

Known as the Merle Sidener Chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, the boys put over quite a few "Big Deals" under the leadership of Clark Keenan, president; Phillip Klotz, treasurer; Ross Christena, publicity chairman, and Stan Trusty, program chairman.

Pledge activities included carrying sandwich boards around school on which the pledges had sold advertising, helping out with all school publicity programs, and supervising publication of the Bulldog.

They list among their activities, the assisting in collecting contributions for the Infantile Paralysis Fund, numerous banquets, visits to downtown advertising luncheon clubs, and the selling of advertising by the pledges during their pledge period.

ANSWER: He was very learned and very absent-minded. An enrolling officer came to the door, beckoned to the students (all men) and all went out to enlist in the army in 1861.

Commerce Club

The Commerce Club is the largest departmental organization at Butler. Its rapid growth this year was due to the work of William Pappas, president, and the faculty advisor, Professor Chester B. Camp.

In addition to the two business meetings, the Commerce Club also has one social meeting. Their programs include speakers from the business world and field trips through downtown industrial plants. This year's activities of the Commerce Club were closed by a dance, given for the members and their guests. Jim Awspagh was chairman of this affair.

The Commerce Club revised its constitution this year. The club is now governed by a new Board of Directors which is made up of the officers, the faculty advisor and Dean M. O. Ross. The officers of the Commerce Club are elected in January.

The officers, besides William Pappas, are Doris Griffith, vice-president; Mary Catherine Johnson, secretary; and Robert Tews, treasurer.

Young Women's Christian Association

The Young Women's Christian Association is one of the largest and most active groups on the Butler Campus. Membership is open to all Butler coeds and it strives to further the interests of the school as well as students.

Sponsoring Geneva Stunts in the spring and fall, as well as a competitive all school bonfire sing are two important activities. Proceeds from the stunts help to send delegates to the Y. W. C. A. Geneva Conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

The monthly meetings on Wednesday afternoons and the teas were popular features of the year.

Faculty sponsor for this year was Mrs. Glenn Maynard. The advisory board was made up of: Miss Allbee, Mrs. Scott, Dean Ward, Mrs. Bridenstine.

QUESTION: When was the first yearbook published under the name of the "Drift"?

Manuscripts

Manuscripts, Butler's literary magazine, has been published quarterly by members of the English department for the past eight years. The MSS senior staff is composed of students chosen from the university English classes and former members of the lower staff which in turn represent all composition classes. Material for the magazine may be submitted by all students of Butler who are interested in writing. The contents of MSS include poems, essays, sketches, and short stories with illustrations by Butler art students. Reproductions of works of art, both local and national, are often printed in the magazine through the courtesy of the John Herron Art Museum. MSS is supported by the subscription fees collected from students in all composition classes.

Students of Butler pay tribute to this very worthwhile Literary Journal and to its staff. Recognition is due them for the time and effort involved in the publication of the work of Butler students who have a real interest in English literature and composition.

George Wilson is editor of MSS and faculty sponsors are Dr. Allegra Stewart and Professor Don W. Sparks.

Sigma Tau Delta

Under the direction of Dr. Allegra Stewart, Professor of English; the local Zeta Delta chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national English honorary, enjoyed another fine year, holding several downtown dinner meetings, and making a year's study of Greek drama.

Members of Sigma Tau Delta are selected on the basis of scholarship, critical aptitude, and proven ability in the field of creative writing.

Other faculty sponsors, besides Dr. Stewart, are Professor John B. Harrison, Mrs. A. M. Wesenberg, and Professor Donald Sparks.

Miss Madge Rutherford served as group president during the 1940-41 year.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma, national honorary scholarship fraternity, recognizes each year the scholastic accomplishments of the university's freshman men by making eligible for initiation those students having a grade-point average of 2.5, either for the first semester or for the entire first year. This year there were fourteen new men eligible for membership.

A delegate was sent to the organization's seventh biennial convention, held at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, on April 11th and 12th.

The chapter's officers for the year were Richard Hudelson, president; Robert Stump, vice-president; Ben Sturm, secretary; and Robert Dreessen, treasurer.

Professor Don W. Sparks is the group's faculty sponsor.

ANSWER: It acquired this title for the first time in 1891.

Panhellenic Council

Women's League

Early in the fall Panhellenic sponsored a meeting for all organized and unorganized girls. Alumnae from different sororities gave short talks concerning various phases of sorority life. The purpose of this joint meeting was to acquaint the unorganized girls with the merits of a sorority.

Panhellenic's biggest event was the annual dance held on Saturday, November 16, 1941, at the Murat Temple. All of the sororities cooperated to make the first formal dance of the year a very successful one.

Officers of Panhellenic were Betty Rose Martin, president; and Eileen White, secretary-treasurer.

The Women's League, composed of nearly all the girls in Butler University, has as its purpose to unite all the women students on the Fairview Campus.

The most important function of this group is the forming of the Judiciary Council, which governs the women students on the campus. This group has regular meetings to revise old laws and make new rules needed for the girls at Butler.

Other activities of the Women's League include the renting of lockers, the annual breakfast, matinee talks and the House Council, composed of the house-presidents of the sororities. At the annual breakfast the scholarship cup and the attendance trophy were presented.

The beautiful May Day celebration, held annually, rests entirely in the hands of the members of the Women's League.

This year's officers were Eileen White, president; Barbara Phelps, vice-president; Magnolia DeHart, treasurer; and Dorothy Ann Fisher, secretary. Dean Elizabeth Ward is the sponsor of Women's League.

Judiciary Council

Sigma Delta Chi

The house Judiciary Council is a part of Women's League. This group is the governing body for the residence women at Butler University. It is composed of one representative from each sorority house, representatives from those out-of-town girls who live in homes near Butler, and representatives from the Indianapolis girls. These girls are elected by the members of the Women's League.

At the meetings of this group, Eileen White, president of the Women's League, presides. Dean Elizabeth Ward and Dr. Margaret T. Fisher are the faculty advisors. The group has a meeting once each week. They are responsible for the making of residence requirements and seeing that they are enforced on the campus.

Other officers for the past year were Barbara Phelps, vice-president; and Jean Hlackerd, secretary.

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, is perhaps best known on this campus for the Blanket Hop, annual dance given in honor of the senior gridmen to award the outstanding man a Butler blanket. At the dance the Bullegian, surnamed the Razz Collegian, is distributed. The notoriety of this publication, known to be devoid of censors, is only exceeded by the difficulty to obtain copies following the dance.

Other activities for the year included a special issue of the Collegian sponsored by SDX, with the profits resulting from a five-cent tax on copies going to the local Bundles For Britain chapter, the sponsoring of a trophy at the annual meeting of the Hoosier State Press Association to the Indiana weekly with outstanding front page make-up.

Members are pledged early in the first semester on the basis of journalistic ability and potentialities; initiation is in the early spring. Downtown meetings are held monthly, and include speakers from different fields of journalism. Honorary initiations are held jointly with the regular.

The year's officers include Robert Renz, president; Max Stultz, vice-president; James E. Farmer, treasurer; and William Shipley, secretary. William Eggert represented this chapter at the national convention at Des Moines.

Y.M.C.A.

"The organization rendering the greatest service to the university during the year."

That was the title given the Butler Y. M. C. A. last year in receipt of the President Robinson Lamp of Wisdom trophy. Outstanding service was continued this year, 175 students and faculty members participating.

Projects included: Freshman party and handbook, Student Directory, "How to Study" lectures, Inter-Fraternity Pledge dinner, Outstanding Freshman award, and student conferences. Twenty-five "Y" men were active in Gra-Y club work.

The association acquired a new room in the basement. An advisory board—membered by students, faculty, alumni and interested friends—was formed. Dr. James H. Peeling was chairman.

Association officers were: president, Richard Helm; vice-president, Charles Butz; secretary, James Seller; treasurer, Gale Gilmer, and executive-secretary, Clarence Elliott.

Philokurean

According to the records, Philokurean Society is the oldest club at Butler University dating back to the Irvington campus. Its members include such illustrious persons as Dr. D. S. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, the latter being present club sponsor. The organization is composed of the outstanding students of Prof. Sarah T. Sisson, regular club sponsor.

The society meets on alternate Monday evenings at which time topics of English, both current and historic, are discussed. The club contributes a gift to the Graydon Memorial Library at the close of each school year. At present there are twenty-five members wearing the black and gold key, revived this year from a custom practiced when the club first started.

Haworth Club

The Haworth History and Political Science Club is a comparatively new organization which was formed to honor the late Dr. Paul Leland Haworth, former head of the History Department. Membership in the Haworth Club is open to all students who have had at least three hours of history or political science.

Typical of the work of the Haworth Club were those programs which featured Dr. Highley who spoke on the future of the League of Nations, Mr. Eric Martin who spoke on New Zealand, and Joel Harrod who showed the club his movies on Bermuda.

The officers of the Haworth are Danna Lansley, president; Jeanette Carey, secretary-treasurer, and Ann Sanders, program chairman. Dr. A. D. Beeler is faculty sponsor.

Classical Club

This club is composed of students who are interested in the classical languages. The meetings of the Classical club are held once each month at the homes of members or in the recreation room. Their programs consist of games played with Latin or Greek phrases, and reports on classical novels. Their meetings are always closed with songs and refreshments.

The purpose of the Classical club is to give the students of the classics a broader view on the usefulness of a knowledge of the classical languages in everyday life.

Dr. Henry M. Gelston and Dr. Janet M. MacDonald were the sponsors of this year's group. The officers are Jean Lentz, president; Jane Stettler, vice-president; Marjorie Carroll, Secretary; and Winifred Davis, Treasurer.

QUESTION: Do you know what activity club has had the longest continuous existence on the Butler campus?

ANSWER: This honor is given to the English literary club, Philokurean.

QUESTION: When was the first Summer session held at Butler University?

ANSWER: It was first instituted in the year 1896 on the Irvington campus.

Zoology Club

The programs of the Zoology Club for the past year have featured many interesting speakers on the dental and medical professions together with discussions concerning the manufacture of biological products and the conservation work in the State of Indiana.

Pre-medical, pre-dental, and pre-dietetical students have been afforded a chance to converse with some of the leaders of their fields.

A record attendance has been secured through the efforts of Dina Barkan, president; William Pentacost, vice-president; Phyllis Jamieson, secretary; and Katharine Parrish, treasurer.

Membership in this active group is open to all students interested in Zoology.

Alfred Marshall

Alfred Marshall is the honor society of the Economics Department. It was organized in 1931 for the purpose of honoring those students who have achieved a high scholarship in the department. Any junior or senior in the College of Business Administration who has maintained a two-point average in his major subjects is eligible for membership.

Barbara Keiser and Virginia M. Johnson, seniors, were admitted to the society after the club picture was taken.

The annual banquet, attended by Alumni and College of Business Administration faculty, was held May 7, at which time new members were initiated into the society. At the same time several of the faculty were made honorary members. As is the custom a gift was presented to the College of Business Administration.

With the aid of the faculty sponsor, Professor Merwyn G. Bridenstine, the officers, Burgess Hurd, president; William Crawford, vice-president; George Dick, secretary; and Betty Tripp, treasurer, have endeavored to make this year the most successful in the history of the organization.

Mathematics Club

The Butler University Mathematics Club, under the sponsorship of Professor Juna L. Beal, is an organization designed to acquaint the students of mathematics with each other. During the regular monthly meetings, held at the sorority and fraternity houses, topics which are not included in the regular classroom course, are brought up for discussion. Often problems and puzzles designed to test the mathematical aptitude of the club members are introduced. The club holds its annual picnic in the spring.

The Mathematics Club, composed of approximately twenty members is open to any student of mathematics who may wish to enter. There are no entrance requirements.

The officers for the year are: Blanchalice Barrett, President; Helen Caster, Vice-president; Paul Weaver, Treasurer; and Marihelle Foster, Secretary.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club at Butler was organized several years ago for the purpose of increasing an interest in Spain and Mexico and other Spanish-speaking countries. Meetings held monthly combine programs and social talks by well-known authorities of Spanish. Slides of the manners and customs of various countries which speak the Spanish language are shown at many meetings. A part of the conversation in each meeting is carried on in Spanish.

The annual Christmas party and Spring Fiesta of the club are highlights of the school's activities each year. The Fiesta is open to all Butler students and is held in the Campus Club.

Miss Florence Morrison is faculty sponsor of the club. Bette Jean Lowery, president; Hartwell Kavler, vice-president; George Wilson, secretary, and Dick Gray, treasurer were the officers of the Spanish Club this year.

German Club

This club is composed of students who have had at least one full year of German and who have always maintained a two-point average in their language classes. The meetings are held monthly at the fraternity and sorority houses. Their programs consist of reports on the lives of great German composers, authors, and poets. Interesting parts of the works of these great writers are read aloud, then discussed by the club, thereby increasing their knowledge of the life in Germany. The conversation of a part of each meeting is carried on in German.

The social activities of the German Club include a fall wiener roast, a Christmas party and a spring picnic.

The club is sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. Milton D. Baumgartner and Mrs. Virginia Brunson. This year's officers were Jane Riggs, president; William Bowen, vice-president and treasurer, and Lieselotte Happel, Secretary.

French Club

Le Cercle Francais is an honorary organization for students interested in French. The aim of this club is to give its members an opportunity to learn to converse easily in French and to learn more of the culture of the French people.

Unlike most departmental clubs, the membership of the French Club is restricted. No more than twenty members are admitted.

Requirements for membership include one year of French with a B average; the passing of a test given by the French faculty and a majority vote by the active chapter.

The officers are Barbara Frederickson, president; Patricia Sylvester, vice-president; Juanita Wagner, secretary, and Jack Lewis, treasurer.

Monthly business meetings and spreads are held by Le Cercle Francais.

American Chemical Society

This recently chartered group has, during its brief history, served the Butler chemistry department and the student body in general by bringing to Butler outstanding men, experts in their various fields of chemical endeavor.

The purpose of this student branch of the American Chemical Society is to create a greater scientific interest among the students and local citizens as well and to encourage a better understanding between students, industrial men and educators.

To be eligible for the Student Affiliate one must be a chemistry major having completed ten hours of chemistry with a grade point average of 2 point.

The officers for the year were David G. Young, inactive president; William F. Bruenger, acting president; Eleanor Cook secretary, and Marlyn J. Brock, treasurer. Dr. Karl S. Means is faculty sponsor.

Bluegills

Bluegills is an organization for girls interested and proficient in swimming. This year the members held telegraphic meets with other universities and were often winners. They also planned play days at neighboring universities. Early in the year the girls revised their constitution in order to provide a new initiation program.

Candidates for membership must pass a test in diving, swimming and water stunts, and receive a majority of favorable votes from the members.

Gerry Getz was president of this year's group while Mary Marott was secretary-treasurer and Charlotte Tindall, social chairman.

Mrs. Turpin Davis was this year's sponsor of Bluegills.

QUESTION: How much has Butler's endowment increased in the past twenty years?

ANSWER: It has increased from $100,000 to $6,000,000.

QUESTION: Who was eligible to represent Butler on the athletic fields in the old days?

ANSWER: Faculty members could participate in sports as well as students.

Phi Chi Nu

The girls in Phi Chi Nu can be recognized by their white gold necklaces which carry their Greek letters engraved on a pendant in the shape of a white gold key.

To be chosen for Phi Chi Nu, a girl must maintain a 2.26 grade average during her first semester at Butler, and be enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Every year the members give a tea for freshmen girls who are eligible for membership. Monthly spreads are held at the sorority houses and often speakers are invited.

The officers for this year were Suzanne Masters, president; Martha Lou Sunderland, vice-president; Perky Marshall, secretary; and Mary Janet Mummert, treasurer.

Mrs. Virginia Brunson is the faculty sponsor of Phi Chi Nu.

Pi Epsilon Phi

Under the guidance of Professor Kathryn J. Journey, faculty sponsor, and Jean Reed, club president, the members of this national honorary home economics fraternity have enjoyed interesting programs throughout the entire school year. The girls of Pi Epsilon Phi are selected because of their interest in Home Economics and their high scholastic average.

Their monthly meetings have been made interesting by speakers on the subjects of interior decorating, dietetics and other phases concerning this huge field of Home Economics.

Other officers of Pi Epsilon Phi are held by Joan Silberman, vice-president; Eloise Schunacher, secretary; and Kathryn Wagle, treasurer.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi, national educational honorary was founded in 1931 to foster professional interest in teaching. The organization is open to juniors and seniors who have shown a genuine interest in teaching. The requirements for membership are a scholastic average of at least B in the first two years of school. Pledging takes place twice a year followed by initiation and banquet in the spring.

Speakers and supervisors already in the field give talks at the monthly meetings in the homes of members or in Jordan Hall. The officers serving for the year were Jane Riggs, president; Betty Foster, vice-president; Ester Gray, Barbara Phelps, secretaries.

Kappa Beta

The purpose of Kappa Beta is to promote goodwill and fellowship among Christian women on the campus. There are many requirements for membership in this sorority. A girl must be an active member of a protestant church, have a high grade-point average, and must be active on the campus.

The activities of Kappa Beta include an annual Founders' Day banquet, a Mothers' Day tea, Sunday vesper services, a Senior breakfast, and monthly spreads.

The officers for this year were Kathryn Cooper, president; Mildred Young, vice-president; Betty France, treasurer; Ann Calvert, corresponding secretary, and Annamae Leavell, recording secretary. Mary Ann Lookabill is the correspondent to the Radius, the national magazine of Kappa Beta.

QUESTION: Who wrote the Butler alma mater song entitled, "In The Gallery of Memories"?

ANSWER: Mr. Fred W. Wolff, of the class of 1916, now living in Wabash, Indiana.

Kappa Kappa Psi

Choir

The members of Kappa Kappa Psi, who are easily distinguished by shoulder cords on their uniforms, are the regulating members of the Butler Band. Acting as a governing body, they enforce all rules and regulations, and in addition form a Board of Strategy which plans formations for the band.

Founded at Stillwater, Oklahoma, in 1924, it is a national honorary fraternity for college bandsmen: members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, musicianship, cooperation, and initiative. Here at Butler, under the faculty sponsorship of Ellis Carroll, the organization sponsors the Band Benefit Ball, held in the fall; The Band Banquet in the spring; all out-of-town trips; and the Band day at a football game when visiting high school bands are guests of the University.

Officers for this year are Max Wildman, president; Robert Phillips, vice-president; Harlan Pfaff, secretary; Richard Smith, Treasurer; and Harry Spaulding, Editor.

The Butler University Choir, composed of approximately eighty-five students of the University, is an organization well-renowned in the city of Indianapolis. It is directed by Professor Joseph Lautner, who contacts all freshmen at the beginning of the fall term to determine whether or not they are interested in music work. The only entrance requirement for students, is to sing for Professor Lautner. Thus, the director is able to place them in proper voice sections.

So far this year the choir has sung at the all-school Convocation at Christmas time, and at the Founders' Day celebration. It also sings regularly once a month over radio station, WFBM and weekly over WIRE.

Theta Sigma Phi

Equiteers

All the members of Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honorary sorority, are interested in the field of journalism. To be admitted into this sorority, a girl must have a high grade-point average, must work on the Collegian, and must write a paper on some phase of women in journalism, which will be published in the Matrix, the national magazine of Theta Sigma Phi.

The Theta Sigs have done much to promote school spirit on the campus. First came the annual Razz Banquet held in the Campus club for women only. Another annual affair promoted by the Theta Sigs is the Ritters' Round-Up which is a girl-take-boy dance held in the field house.

Bi-monthly spreads are held in the sorority houses, and apples were sold every Wednesday in Jelly Hall by the members. This year's officers were: Helen Ruegamer, President; Lois Foreman, Vice-President; Martha McIlhatton, Treasurer. Joan Hixon was correspondent to the Matrix, and Betty Lupton was the Keeper of the Archives.

Equiteers may be considered an honorary since prospective members must pass certain tests in horsemanship and be voted upon unanimously by the chapter.

This year the club participated in several inter-collegiate shows, placing high in every one. Other activities include acting as hosts for the annual inter-collegiate show held here in the spring, holding the annual horsemanship celebration, and engaging in the usual formation riding as a troop in various horse shows.

This year the Equiteers were under the direction of Max Norris, President; Janet Ingham, vice-president; Jeanne Seward, secretary; Constance French, Treasurer; Patricia Stayton, publicity chairman; and Richard Bennet, historian.

The 1942 Junior Prom

The crowning achievement of the Junior Class was their annual Junior Prom. Approximately 350 couples helped end the 1941 social season in the style it is accustomed to at the year's biggest dance. Leo Reisman, recognized as having one of the finest dance orchestras in the country, was well received and more than lived up to the billing he received. The setting was different this year being the Egyptian Room of the Murat Temple. The beautiful prom booths set off the room like it never has been before. Lambda Chi Alpha won in the fraternity division with the Phi Delta Theta booth being given an honorable mention. The Pi Beta Phi sorority won in their division.

Butler was granted an unusual honor when the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers allowed Reisman's band to play their tunes for a half hour program over WIRE. Lovely Lucy Bosler of Kappa Alpha Theta was the perfect prom queen and more than lived up to the saying "that all precious things come in small packages".

Dick Freuchtnicht took the role of prom chairman in the absence of Paul McClellan who was forced to drop the job because of outside activities. Stanley Trusty, Ross Christena, Frank King, and Mark Holeman headed the most important committees. The dance was a great success in every way and much credit should be given to those people who helped make this the best prom yet.

HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES

Homecoming caused the many friends and alumni of Butler to return another year to glorify their Alma Mater. The Greek-letter houses cordially welcomed their former active members back to their respective houses to enjoy the homecoming activities.

It was a colorful Homecoming celebration which began at noon Friday with the Freshmen-Sophomore fight being the first event. The Sophomore Class of 1943 emerged victorious after a successful attempt to protect their flag in a hard-fought "greased pole" battle.

In the afternoon amid intermittent rainfall and strong winds, the Homecoming parade formed downtown. The Band escorted a procession of fifteen beautifully decorated floats followed by an enthusiastic student body. Winners in the colorful float decorations were Lambda Chi Alpha and Kappa Alpha Theta.

The wood-gathering contest was won by the Sigma Nu fraternity which was followed up Friday evening by an all-school pep session held in the light of the huge bonfire. The main attractions of the evening were a fraternity and sorority singing contest and a short decisive talk by Coach "Tony" Hinkle.

During the night the Greek organizations went to work to decorate their houses to participate in the House Decorations Contest. Ten o'clock Saturday morning the judges awarded the trophies to Pi Beta Phi and Lambda Chi Alpha. Saturday afternoon both students and alumni attended the football game between Butler and De Pauw which proved to be a very happy day for the Bulldogs and an impressive climax to a successful Homecoming week-end. The finishing touches were put on Saturday night by the Dance-of-the-week-end which was sponsored by Blue Key and Scarlet Quill, national honorary fraternities.

THE FINAL FIFTEEN
SPENCER, FREEMAN, KENNY, THOMAS, BURKAN, FULLER, SHIPPEY, BELL, TINDALL, WILEY, OSTERMEYER, RECKTENWALL, KRUEGER.

We wish to present to you the five most beautiful girls at Butler chosen from a field of fifty-three. In an effort to attain a higher degree of democracy, we have introduced a new method of selecting the final five. According to this method, each organization may submit not more than six participants to appear in the preliminary contest. In this preliminary, fifteen girls were selected from the original fifty-three by the judges D. Daniels, sculpture; L. R. Priddy, photographer; and M. Thurgood, Artist.

These fifteen girls participated in a style show at L. S. Ayres' Auditorium, March 15, in the final contest. The purpose of this final contest was to pick five outstanding girls who in the opinion of the judges were emblematic and most representative of girls on the Butler Campus. The judges for this contest were B. F. Caldwell, artist; R. Tomlinson, photographer; and R. L. Randel, Artist. Professor Isom served as faculty representative to supervise the judging.

Athletic Staff

PAUL D. HINKLE,
Athletic Director

HINKLE, head coach;
HAUSS, line coach;
MIDDLESWORTH, assistant football coach; HEDDON, reshmea coach

Piloting Butler athletic ships through the rough seas of intercollegiate competition is the job of the Bulldog brain trust, pictured above.

The staff, led by Paul D. "Tony" Hinkle, consists of Hugh "Wally" Middlesworth, Jim Hauss, and Frank "Pop" Hedden.

Hinkle, formerly one of the greatest athletes ever to grace the American sports front, handles, the three-fold assignment of coaching varsity football, basketball, and baseball. One of the only two men ever to earn nine letters at the University of Chicago. "Hink" this year celebrated his twentieth year as Butler basketball mentor.

Acting as right-hand-man to Hinkle is Hugh "Wally"

Middlesworth, former Butler grid and net star, who devotes special attention to the Bulldog backfield. Head of the Indianapolis recreation department, Middlesworth is of invaluable aid to Butler athletics.

Jim Hauss is another former Butler great, who not only shows the tricks of the trade to Butler linemen, but also has charge of the Blue and White golf squad. Jim was a regular lineman for Butler three years.

To Frank "Pop" Hedden goes the assignment of introducing prospective Bulldog athletes into the Hinkle system of football and basketball. "Pop," who also instructs classes in physical education, is Butler's freshman coach, an important cog in any athletic machine.

QUESTION:—How long has Paul "Tony" Hinkle served in the capacity as coach at Butler University?

ANSWER:—This year marks his twentieth anniversary at Butler.

MANAGERS . . . DOC MORRIS . . . CHEER LEADERS

Behind the trim appearance of the Butler Gridders lies painstaking preparation which is the function of the football Managers . . . As the victorious gridmen leave the game, they present a far different picture: happy in spirit but tattered in appearance. It is then that the work of the Manager is just beginning. Every afternoon one can see them hustling from one end of the practice field to the other, keeping an eye on players and equipment.

"Doc" Morris is one of the most valuable cogs of the Butler University Athletic Machine. We should be proud to have such an individual as Jim here at Butler for he is recognized as one of the country's outstanding athletic trainers and day by day he is gaining more prominence in that field.

Doc is known for his trait of treating all athletes with equal care and attention. It makes no difference whether he is treating a college or high school athlete.

Doc is always willing to oblige and give treatments. He is also very accomplished at the art of cutting hair, but this is purely a hobby, and the patients have to suffer the consequences.

The fact that Butler's athletic spirit took a noticed upswing during the 1910-11 athletic season may have been due to the increased efforts of the yell leaders and the cooperation of the student body.

Dick Carson took over the captain's duties and with the cooperation of "Doc" King and Jack Hoyt several new routines and yells were worked out.

The best support of the team was rendered at the Final Home Basketball game with Notre Dame at which things were given a feminine touch with the addition of two girls to the cheering squad.

The annual cheerleaders banquet held in April with several faculty members as guests turned out to be quite a success.

1941 FOOT

Purdue's Dave Rankin misses a big one in the end zone as Feichter looks on.

The 1940 Bulldog gridmen suffered an unusual number of defeats, but still managed to come up with a 500 percent average and their seventh consecutive Indiana Intercollegiate conference championship.

Total season records show that the Hinklemen rolled up a total of 142 points, on 22 touchdowns and 10 extra points, while holding their aggregate opponents to 119 points, on 18 touchdowns and 11 extra points.

Leading Bulldog point-gainer was little Ralph "Red" Swager, senior halfback, who skipped to six touchdowns and place-kicked six conversions to amass a total of 42 points.

Not far behind was Senior wingman Stan Crawford, who went over four times and accounted for one conversion, to gain 25 points. Sophomore halfback Charlie Metzelaars was right behind with 24 markers on four touchdown jaunts, with Elwood "Woody" Norris, junior fullback, going over three times for 18 points.

Other scorers were Harold Feichter, senior halfback, with 12; Steve Stoyko, sophomore halfback, with nine; and Robert Roberts and Henry "Hank" Abts, both with six. Abts was a senior halfback, but Roberts, a junior, held down an end position.

Butler 27—St. Joseph 6

The Bulldogs opened their season in high gear, rolling over the St. Joseph Pumas by a 27-6 score at the Butler Bowl.

Scoring in all quarters, the Bulldogs held their conference foes at bay until the final seconds of the game when All-Conference Nick Scollard snagged two long passes to set up a touchdown plunge by Pete Varini, Puma fullback.

Into the Butler scoring column went Stanley Crawford, lanky end, who scored on a pass in the first quarter; Elwood "Woody" Norris, reserve fullback, who plunged for a second stanza touchdown; Sophomore Charlie Metzelaars, reserve halfback, who skipped 14 yards for a third-period score; and little Ralph "Red" Swager, 150-pound triple threat halfback, who bucked the line for a much deserved six-pointer in the final quarter.

Purdue 28—Butler 0

Held almost entirely within a 16-yard penalty of their own goal line, the Bulldogs never really got their offensive rolling as they went down before the powerful Purdue Boilermakers 28-0 at the Ross-Ade Stadium at West Lafayette.

Captain Dave Rankin & Co. were too much for the Bulldogs, who had to produce several fine defensive stands to keep the score from looking like a government payroll.

QUESTION: What school has held the Indiana Conference Championship for seven consecutive years in football?

ANSWER: Butler has had the honor of holding this title.

BALL SEASON

Butler 7—Ohio U. 7

It was "raining cats and dogs" at Athens, Ohio, Nov. 12, but after 60 minutes of football neither the Bobcats or the Bulldogs were reigning. The game ended in a 7-7 tie.

Taking advantage of a first-quarter penalty which put the ball on the Ohio one-yard marker, the Bulldogs sent Swager over on a line smash, and Swager place-kicked the extra point to give Butler a 7-0 lead.

The Bobcats came back, however, in the third stanza, to tie the count on a pass from the Butler 10 yard line and a successful conversion. Final count, 7-7.

Xavier 13—Butler 6

Coach Clem Crowe brought his Xavier Musketeers to Butler Bowl October 18, and left the Bulldogs on the short end of a 13-6 count.

After a scoreless first half, during which the fans near the Xavier goal had to follow the game by loud speaker, the Bulldogs came to life early in the third stanza, executing a long drive which ended when Swager flipped a pass to Metzelaars in the end zone.

Sparked by the prospect of defeat, however, the Musketeers took to the air, and from there on in everything was over the Bulldog's head.

Gaining more than two thirds of their ground via the aerial route, the Musketeers counter punched in the third stanza on a touchdown pass and repeated in the last quarter to put the game on ice.

Butler 19—Wabash 12

Returning to Conference competition, the Bulldogs played colorless but powerful football in turning down the Wabash Cavemen 19-12 before a large homecoming crowd at the Crawfordsville field.

The game was much more decisive than the score, with the steam-rolling Bulldog machine piling up a lopsided yardage advantage over the inspired but outplayed Cavemen.

Executing long, relentless drives, the Bulldogs sent Metzelaars and Sophomore Steve Stoyko over on ground plays, while the Swager to Crawford pass combination reaped the third score.

The count was tied 6-6 at halftime, but the Blue and White counted in both the third and fourth quarters, while yielding one Wabash tally in the final period.

Washington of St. Louis 27—Butler 19

The Bulldogs spotted the Bears a 27-0 third-quarter lead, and then almost turned the game into a storybook Butler victory, executing a three-touchdown campaign in the final quarter, and losing only because of the referee's gun.

A Bulldog attack that sputtered and fused all over the field for three quarters, suddenly came to life in the final stanza. After a penalty had given them the ball on the Bear's one yard line, the Bulldogs opened the way for Swager to score on a line buck and the parade was on.

A few moments later Swager flipped a pass to Crawford in the end zone for Butler's second score.

Recovery of a Washington fumble on their own 45 started the Bulldogs once more goalward. Norris finally plunged over for Butler's third score and Crawford kicked the extra point to give the Bulldogs the 19th point in 11 minutes.

The final gun sounded, however, before the Bulldogs could get a game-winning drive across the Washington goal line.

Butler 32—DePaw 6

The Bulldogs opened up a four-touchdown first-half barrage and coasted to an easy 32-6 victory over the DePaw Tigers before a large Homecoming crowd at Butler Bowl.

The Tigers, playing against a host of Bulldog reserves, pushed across a touchdown in the waning minutes of the game, but the outcome of the contest was never in doubt from the opening play.

Before the firing was over, Swager had gone over twice and had passed to Roberts for another touchdown. Feichter and Norris added touchdowns, and Swager converted two extra points to give the Hinklemen their 32 markers.

Butler 26—Ball State 0

Displaying the finest exhibition of blocking and tackling seen on the Butler gridiron all season, the Bulldogs cinched their seventh consecutive Indiana Intercollegiate Conference grid crown with a 26-0 whitewash over the Cardinals of Ball State College.

The game, which saw the Hinklemen open up a second-quarter blitzkrieg and coast to their victory, marked Butler's 33rd consecutive game without defeat.

The initial score came on the first play of the second quarter; Swager smashing over from the two yard line, and completing the placement to give Butler a 7-0 lead.

In a few moments the always-dependable pass combination, Swager to Crawford, netted the Bulldogs another touchdown.

And again a few plays later, Big Woody Norris crashed through the line and plowed 18 yards for Butler's third score of the quarter. Stoyko place-kicked the extra point, and Butler lead 20-0.

Shortly after the intermission, the Blue and White again reached pay dirt; Swager going over on a reverse from the 19 yard line. Final score, Butler 26, Ball State 0.

Toledo 20—Butler 6

Coach Clarence "Doc" Spears and his Toledo University Rockets, heading into big-time football, hardly broke stride in running over the Bulldogs by a score of 20-6 in the season finale at the Fairview Bowl.

Held at bay by a fast-charging, vicious-tackling Toledo line, the Bulldogs could not score until the final moments of the game, while Rocket halfback Bobby Slovak ran wild, scoring all three of the visitors touchdowns.

Counting 11 first downs to Butler's three, and rolling up 174 yards on the ground, against Butler's 35. The Ohioans were outclassed only in the pass department, 93 yards to 86.

Fed on goose eggs for three quarters, the Bulldogs finally scored in the final moments of the game when bustlin' Hank Abts took a pass from Metzlaars and skirted south of the border, to avoid a whitewash.

BASKETBALL

Butler's 1910-11 basketball season was aptly summed up at a post-season banquet by Coach Hinkle who said "this year's team played some of the best ball ever played by a Butler team—and some of the worst."

Yes, they ran hot and cold, these Bulldogs of '40-'41, but they ran hot more than they ran cold, and came out at the end with a fine record of thirteen wins and nine losses, winning their last five consecutive games.

Five seniors saw action under Hinkle for the last time in the season finale against, Franklin. They were Bill Hamilton, Jack Clayton, Lyle Neat, Lester Combst and—saving the best for last—Captain Bob "Gabby" Dietz, who scored more points for Butler than any other man in history.

Though neither big nor exceptionally fast moving, Dietz possessed an uncanny faculty for knowing where to be, and boasted probably the finest floor game seen in the fieldhouse in many a moon.

Bob led team scoring his sophomore year with 127 points, ran second to the great Jerome Steiner the following year with 178, and poured 203 points through the hoop his senior season, to amass 508 points for three years of play, breaking the record of 463 held by Oral Hildebrand for more than fifteen years.

Dietz came within five points of Steiner's single-year record of 208 points, but was hampered during the latter part of the season by a heel injury, and, in the last game, was virtually unable to shoot, because of a badly swollen hand.

Captain Bob Dietz

Indiana 39—Butler 36

The Bulldogs opened their season in high gear, extending Indiana University's national champions to the limit before losing out in the final minutes of the game.

Weakness at the free throw line caused the defeat of the Bulldogs, who matched the Hustlin' Hoosiers 16 baskets apiece, but could cash in on only four of 17 gratis attempts.

Butler 51—Ohio State 49

Too close for comfort was this game, in which the Bulldog machine rolled up a 41-30 lead with less than five minutes to play, and then collapsed before a whirlwind rally that all but closed the gap.

Although the locals led only 25-22 at intermission time, a second-half spurge saw them pull away to their 41-30 advantage.

Butler 32—Northwestern 31

A real thriller here. The Fairview Flyers, badly out-sized, took over a 21-14 half-time lead but saw their advantage wiped away before a late Wildecat rally. A basket in the final 15 seconds of the game gave the Wildcats a 31-30 lead, but Lyle Neat drove under to recapture the game with less than eight seconds left.

Michigan 32—Butler 25

The Wolverines pulled away at the beginning and held the lead throughout, coasting through the second half after taking over 16-9 intermission lead. Biggest gun in the Michigan attack was Bill Mandler, 18-year old sophomore center, who tallied 18 points.

Pittsburgh 41—Butler 40

A heartbreaker here, in which the Bulldogs all but won over their taller rivals in a late but brilliant rally. The famous Pittsburgh "figure eight" formation worked to good advantage, as the Panthers took over a 23-21 halftime margin and stretched their lead during the second half, before the Butler rally almost turned the tables.

DePaul 53—Butler 32

This one looked like a ballgame during the first half, in which the Fairview quintet stayed within six points of the Chicago outfit at 23-17, but after the intermission the Bulldogs couldn't stick with their taller opponents who turned the game into a rout.

Butler 57—Xavier 33

The defeat-ridden Bulldogs played with a vengeance to completely smother a giant Xavier quintet by a 24 point margin. The Bulldogs jumped away to an early lead and never left a moment's doubt as to the outcome of the battle.

Notre Dame 15—Butler 35

The Bulldogs were primed for this one, but everything went wrong, as Coach George Keogan's boys pulled away early in the game, and held the Bulldogs off throughout.

Butler 38—DePauw 34

The Bulldogs spotted the Tigers a 13-0 lead and then came back to "win one for 'Hink,'" in a special "Hinkle night" tilt at the fieldhouse.

Trailing 16-25 at half time, the Bulldogs didn't catch up until the final three minutes of play, and then turned on a whirlwind finish to put the game on ice.

Butler 45—Franklin 32

The Grizzlies, pointing to the Bulldogs the same as all other conference teams do, tried to stay with the Fairview Flyers during the first half, but the Hinklemen had too much all-around class, and pulled away during the second session to salt the tilt away.

Butler 38—Ball State 36

The Cardinals were set for this one, and almost turned in a major upset over the Bulldogs. The lead changed hands several times throughout the game, and it was only a final half-minute bucket by Jim McCray that settled the issue in favor of the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs held a 22-17 half time advantage.

Long Island 46—Butler 35

Playing the last game of his collegiate career, Dolly King, great negro center on the Long Island quintet, scored 19 points to lead his team to a decisive victory over the Bulldogs in Madison Square Gardens.

Butler got behind early in the game and never could catch up.

St. Joseph 47—Butler 33

The Hinklemen came close this time, but the St. Joseph quintet came through in the pinches to eke out a close victory. The issue was in doubt until the final three minutes of play when the Philadelphia team sunk two quick buckets to put the game out of reach of the Bulldogs.

Butler 52—Ohio State 30

Bristling from defeats in New York and Philadelphia, the Fairview Flyers really "turned it on" for the home fans, crushing a potent Ohio State machine into complete submission.

Leading 29-10 at half time, Hinkle's boys had things completely their own way at all times.

Butler 41—Wabash 35

The Little Giants came to the field house with blood in their eyes, but could not match the Bulldogs' sparkling play in any department of the game. The Hinklemen pulled away shortly after the opening tipoff, took over a commanding lead, and coasted to their victory.

Marquette 41—Butler 37

The Marquette Hilltoppers, with "Big Bill" Komenich leading the way, turned in a real upset here in downing a highly favored Bulldog five.

The locals held a 19-15 halftime lead, but "Big Bill" went to work the second half, scoring 14 points, to give Coach Bill Chandler a surprise victory.

Wisconsin 59—Butler 55

Mr. Gene Englund, voted the outstanding player in the Big Ten, was entirely too much for the Bulldogs, scoring 27 points to lead his team to a hard-fought victory.

"We couldn't stop them and they couldn't stop us," Coach Harold Foster later said, explaining the game.

Butler 40—Marquette 38

"Big Bill" Komenich was still good for 14 points, but the Bulldogs tamed the rest of the Hilltoppers just enough to eke out their close decision in a return battle at the fieldhouse.

After taking over a 21-11 half time lead, the Fairview Flyers cooled off considerably, but managed to hold the Hilltoppers at bay until the final gun ended the battle.

Butler 33—DePauw 28

A typical conference game, in which the Tigers were pointing for the Bulldogs but the Bulldogs just had too much class to lose this one. The Tigers hung on pretty well, however, until late in the game when the Fairview Flyers opened up a strong attack to put the game on ice.

Butler 34—Wabash 30

After being held to a 16-16 half time deadlock, the Bulldogs came back in the second session to pull this one out of the fire. The game was not so close as the score indicates.

Butler 54—Notre Dame 40

The Bulldogs were truly brilliant in completely outmaneuvering Notre Dame's Fighting Irishmen in a return match at the fieldhouse. Holding a 33-15 half time margin the Bulldogs coasted to their victory, which snapped an 11-game Irish winning streak and put a "Success" tag on the entire Butler season.

Butler 38—Franklin 34

The Grizzlies were waiting for this one, and, with the Bulldogs crowded into the "pill-box" Franklin gymnasium, almost turned in a major upset. The Grizzlies jumped into the lead, and kept one stride ahead of the befuddled Bulldogs throughout the first half, leading 20-18 at the intermission.

Into the second half the Franklin boys held their ground, and extended their lead to six points with less than five minutes to go. But the Bulldogs finally found the range—and just in time—going ahead with only a few minutes to play, and then protecting their lead till the final gun ended their season.

Coach Ray Sears

No Butler athletic team spreads the gospel of Butler University any farther or any better than the Bulldog track and field squad, which annually travels more than 5,000 miles to meet representative teams from all over the United States.

Also a consistent winner is the Fairview cross country squad which this year lost only one of twelve dual meets. Meanwhile the indoor track and field squad, participating in only two dual meets, whipped Wayne

University and lost to Western State, while tying for first place in the great Butler Relays, with Wayne university, and copping runner-up honors behind Loyola University in the Midwestern conference meet.

The outdoor squad, at this writing, has beaten Lincoln university, Arkansas university, and Indiana State while having lost to Purdue, and Pittsburgh Teachers of Pittsburgh, Kansas.

'41 BASEBALL

At this writing the baseball men of Butler have played but three games and have yet failed to win. With only four days of pre-season practice, however, the Bulldogs are presently in very early-season form, and hope that, with a few more games under their belts, they can avenge these early defeats later in the season.

Members of the traveling squad include Bill Hamilton, James Deputy, Joe Guennel, Dick Cournoyer, Harold Mossey, Bob Fletcher, Fred Hunckler, Lyle

Neat, Francis Sears, James Baumgartner, Earl Steckel, Ted Witte, Charles Stewart.

The Bulldog schedule, which includes 15 games, is highlighted by annual home-and-home tilts with Indiana university's Hustlin' Hoosiers. Other teams on the Fairview schedule are St. Joseph, DePauw, Ball State, Wabash, Purdue, Earlham, and Franklin, with all but the Boilermakers signed up for two games.

Last year the Bulldogs won seven of fourteen games.

BUTLER INDOOR RELAYS

The 1911 ninth annual Butler Indoor Relays had its nick-name changed from "The Greatest Track Show in the Mid-west" to "The Nation's Greatest Track Carnival," and went on to live up to its new name.

Some 10,000 fans poured into the great Butler fieldhouse to see more than 325 athletes, representing two dozen schools, do or die for more than $1,000 in trophies.

Michigan's Wolverines, champions the past seven years, were conceded little chance against Indiana University's powerful squad this year in the university division, but showed a surprising burst of form in field events to eke out a two point margin.

over the Hoosiers. The Wolverines copped 35 points with Indiana able to collect only 33.

Meanwhile Butler's Bulldogs, conceded an equally small chance of defending their two-year old college division title, showed great form in running events to tie with Western Michigan State Teachers College for first place. After Butler had seemingly won first place, a technicality robbed the Bulldogs of two points and forced them into a 20-20 tie for top honors.

Adding color to the Relays was Queen Jody Fox and her court of eight Butler Beauties, and the mass pre-relay parade of all officials and athletes.

QUESTION—What is the record of wins and losses during Coach Hinkle's reign at Butler University?

ANSWER—The athletic teams have maintained a .600 average under his guidance and capable coaching ability.

Golf

With only two games under their belts at this writing, the Bulldog golfers are facing a tough 12-game schedule, headed by tilts with Indiana and Purdue.

So far the Bulldog put put men have split, losing to Northwestern, 13-5, and winning over Franklin, 11½ to 6½.

Members of the Butler squad are Harold "Red" Braden, Bob Phillips, Bud Owens, John Wolf, and Jay Anson. Last year the Fairview golfers won the Indiana Intercollegiate conference championship, and are expected to defend their title in the current campaign. Other teams on the Fairview schedule are Earlham, Wabash, DePauw, and Indiana State, all but Indiana State booked for two tilts.

Tennis

The Butler tennis squad, under the direction of Prof. Warren R. Isom, has at present lost two games, but hopes that the "third time is a charm" adage will launch them on a victory string in their next tilt.

Members of the squad currently are Captain Wilbur Schumacher, Chester Robinson, Robert Jacobi, Jack Shackelford, Stan Trusty, and Gene Smalley.

The Fairview tennis schedule, which includes ten games, follows: April 13, Ball State, there; April 19, Indiana, at Butler; April 23, Wabash, there; May 1, Purdue there; May 5, Cincinnati, there; May 8, Illinois Institute of Technology, at Butler; May 9, DePauw, there; May 15, Ball State, at Butler; and May 16, Evansville, at Butler.

FRESHMEN ATHLETICS

If the 1940-'41 freshman football and basketball records are any indication, a bright future for Butler varsity squads can be expected.

This season, under the direction of Frank "Pop" Hedden, the Bullpup gridmen went unbeaten in a two-game schedule, while the rhinie netmen came through a tough six-game card unscathed.

Grid victories were scored over Wabash and DePauw, while court triumphs came over Wabash twice, and DePauw, Ball State, St. Joseph, and N.C.A.G.U.

Coach Hedden is quite proud of his current crop, and promises Varsity Mentor Hinkle and all concerned that his class of '41 will do themselves proud before their four-year term at Butler is completed.

INTRAMURALS

An extensive, well-organized Butler intramural sports program offers both fraternity men and independents opportunities for friendly rivalries in nearly any sport.

With all rules and regulations clearly defined by the Butler Intramural sports board, competition is held in basketball, football, softball, table tennis, golf, swimming, bowling, and many other sports.

At this writing the Butler Independent Association is leading the way, having already won the football, basketball, and table tennis championships. Phi Deltas have won swimming and golf. Sigma Nu victorious in the bowling division.

Other organizations active in intramurals are the Newman Club, the College of Religion, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Phi Delta Theta, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Delta Tau Delta.

Fine trophies are awarded to winners in all events, and intramural sports are given much space in the school daily paper.

Organizations

Delta Tau Delta

Delta Tau Delta was founded at Bethany College, Virginia, in 1859. Beta Zeta was founded on the Butler Campus in 1875. In the fall of 1938, the Deltas changed residence to a new chapter house. Delta Tau Delta now has 74 active chapters, 23 inactive chapters and 32,000 members.

The mother's club now has sixty members, and has been of considerable help in furnishing the chapter house, in which they hold their monthly meetings. They have given numerous teas and bridge parties during the past year.

On October 19, the 22 pledges gave the first social affair of the year, a "hard times" dance at Carr's Hall. This was followed by the highlight of the social season, the annual Delt house party at Turkey Run during the Thanksgiving vacation.

The organization has carried on a successful year under the capable leadership of the following officers: President, John Carr; Vice-president, David Yarian; Recording secretary, Donald J. Sobbe; Corresponding secretary, Jack R. Lewis; Rush Chairman, Quentin Covert; Treasurer, Edward Turner; Rules Chairman, James Hardin; Scholarship Chairman, Tom Markin; and activities Chairman, Robert Smith.

The first of December saw approximately fifty alumni of the chapter return to the house for alumni night. On December 11, the chapter had their annual Christmas party for the orphans, and on December 18, a party was held for the members.

The pledges held socials for the active chapter on January 15, and on February 1. February 22 was the date of the annual pledge dinner dance, held in the main ballroom of the Marott Hotel.

Delta Tau Delta celebrated State Day with a dinner and a dance on March 14, at the Columbia Club.

At the present time, the Deltas are looking forward to their annual Spring Dinner dance.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded at Boston University in 1909, growing out of the Cosmopolitan Law Club. Although comparatively young, Lambda Chi Alpha has taken its place among the leaders of the fraternity world. The fraternity now boasts 109 functioning chapters and is the largest national fraternity on the Butler Campus. Recently the fraternity purchased a spacious and modern national office building in Indianapolis.

The twenty-fifth anniversary at Butler was celebrated with a banquet at the Columbia Club on Dec. 17, 1940, in which brothers from all parts of the country reviewed the progress of the chapter.

Robert Purkhiser and Robert Roberts have guided the Lambda Chi's through the year with a balanced program of scholastic, social and extra-curricular activities. The social season was highlighted by a unique "Black Out" dance in which there prevailed a war-time atmosphere. The annual Spring Formal was held on May 9, 1941, at the Ulen Country Club in Lebanon, Indiana. Other social activities enjoyed by the fraternity were numerous record dances and exchange dinners.

A very clever arrangement of home-coming decorations received the unanimous vote of the judges as the best on the campus. The trophy for the best float in the home-coming parade was also won by Lambda Chi Alpha. On March 14, 1941, Lambda Chi received a trophy for the best float in the relay parade. This victory makes the sixth win out of the seven year competition. Lambda Chi was also the winner of the Blue Key stunts in 1940, presenting a well planned skit portraying sorority life.

Lambda Chi Alpha looks to next year and the future with expectations of service and loyalty to Butler University and the student body.

Phi Delta Theta

Indiana Gamma of Phi Delta Theta at Butler was founded in 1859, just eleven years after the founding of the mother chapter at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio on the evening of December 25, 1848. Since that time the fraternity has grown to over 50,000 members and 106 chapters. The Butler chapter has enjoyed a continuous existence since its beginning, and now claims over 700 loyal brothers.

Those members who did not compete in varsity or freshmen athletics enjoyed many sports events on the intra-mural program throughout the year. The entire chapter competed in many school contests, and as a result of their efforts won the trophy awarded in the Collegian Christmas Cheer Drive and the Bulldog subscription competition. Other events entered were the Homecoming house decorations and Relays' Loyalty contests; as well as several university parades.

Society also had its place in the life of Phi Delta Theta. An outing at Brown county ushered in the social season followed by the Christmas formal held at the Marott hotel. The Indiana State Day Dance was attended by members of the Indiana chapters, as well as delegates from the chapters in six states who were attending the Great Lakes Regional Conference being held in conjunction with this chapter's state day. Brother Charles E. Gaches, national fraternity president, was the guest of the chapter following this conference. Several outings, the annual Pledge Dance, and the Boat Dance on the Ohio river given by Upsilon Chapter along with the Spring Dance completed the year's activities.

The chapter house was open to visitors in the fall, when the new pledges were formally presented.

Many alumni attended the meetings of their newly-organized club as well as the Founders' Banquet given for that organization by this chapter.

Always actively interested in chapter welfare, the Mothers' Club continued their untiring efforts for the betterment of the fraternity by sponsoring a Christmas party, at which time each member was presented a gift. The chapter received several outstanding gifts and in the spring the graduating seniors were presented fraternity plaques by the mothers.

The chapter crew of Phis was piloted this year by brothers William and Robert Ostlund.

Sigma Chi

Rho Chapter of Sigma Chi celebrated its 75th year on the Butler Campus with a gala Diamond Jubilee banquet and ball. The group of celebrities attending the affair was headed by the national President, Dr. Frederick M. Scheuch. "The Benefits of a College Fraternity" was the main topic of the speakers. Many interesting displays of a historical nature were also featured. One attention-drawing exhibit was the original charter of the chapter issued April 10, 1865. The Butler Chapter was founded just ten years after the beginning of the national fraternity at Miami University as a part of the Miami Triad together with Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta. This national fraternity whose members now number 37,558 was established June 28, 1855.

Other events upon the social calendar besides the Diamond Jubilee included a dinner-dance given by the pledge class under the leadership of Robert Elliott and a picnic prepared by the same group. This pledge group was introduced formally at the annual open-house. The Sigma Chis celebrated Christmas with a party and exchange of razz gifts. Rho chapter captured the attendance award at the convention of the various Indiana chapter of Sigma Chi, held in March. Graduating members of the organization were given a rousing send-off at the annual Senior Ball to close the social events.

Under the guidance of Charles Hepler and Max Wildman the fraternity is engaged in remodeling their house. Assisting these two are Harlan Pfaff, vice-president; Max Norris, secretary; Philip Klotz, treasurer; Jack Shakleford, historian; Bud Young, pledge instructor; and James Sellers, the tribune. The Mothers' Club and Alumni Group have been quite active in aiding in this project.

Glistening upon the trophy shelves is the latest addition, the beautiful Hinkle Trophy awarded for attendance at the home football games. The Sigma Chi Chapter at Butler intends to add many other awards to their growing collection during the forthcoming year.

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu Fraternity was founded January 1, 1869, at Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Virginia; the fraternity was first called the Legion of Honor. Since its birth, it has grown to an organization consisting of 98 active chapters, and 12 inactive chapters, and boasts a membership of over 33,000 men. Epsilon Mu, the Butler chapter was chartered on May 7, 1926, and is the youngest fraternity on the campus.

The fraternity was headed this year by Commander William Crawford. Other officers included Frank King, Lieutenant-Commander; Chester Robinson, Recorder; Robert Phillips, Chaplain; Jack Becknell, Sentinel; Allen Dreyer, Pledgemaster and Alumni Contact; Robert Lawson, Treasurer; Paul MacClellan, Marshall; and Thomas Lewis, Historian.

The customary serenading of the various sororities at their formal pledging was held as one of the most important fall rush activities. A bouquet was given to each sorority president.

Then on November 10, our pledge chapter was introduced to the campus at open house. The pledges reciprocated by entertaining the active chapter at a "Come as you are when invited" dance on November 29, ably aided by Dick Robbins' orchestra.

Meanwhile Sigma Nus had succeeded in capturing the trophy offered to the fraternity collecting the most wood for the Homecoming bonfire, November 1.

On December 19, fifteen unfortunate children chosen by Fletcher Avenue Goodwill Industries were royally feared at the chapter house in the good old Christmas tradition, Santa Claus, toys, and candy all playing an important role. President Robinson and his wife, and Dean and Mrs. Ratti kindly consented to add prestige to this affair by their presence.

Social progress continued with a gala winter formal dinner-dance at the Marott Hotel, January 23, 1941 with music furnished by Chuck Smith. This dance served as a welcome relaxation from the tension produced by finals.

Scholastically we fared well, ending the first semester second among the fraternities and surpassing all-men's average.

Following a week of intensive pre-initiation training, impressive initiation ceremonies were conducted on March 16 for the eligible candidates. A social at the chapter house following these services served to intensify the loyalty these new initiates had already evidenced to Sigma Nu.

May the third was a big day in the year. On this date our chapter celebrated Founder's Day and simultaneously acted as host to all other Indiana chapters at the Sigma Nu Hoosier Rally. The annual spring formal claimed a successful social season for the chapter.

Of course we supported all school functions, and made all our plans to conform with the idea of emphasizing the close bond existing between the school and the Greek-letter organizations.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Omega was founded at DePauw University, 1885, with the assistance of Dr. Campbell, a Beta Theta Pi. There are 61 active chapters; 2 inactive chapters; 15,000 members. Alpha Chi was established on the Butler campus in 1925.

Mothers Club started about this same time and now has ninety active members. They have always been interested in the welfare of the group and have given it much social and material help. They hold monthly meetings in the chapter house.

We started the year by introducing sixteen pledges to alumni at "Stardust Banquet" at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. We in turn introduced these grand pledges to the campus at Open House on Oct. 13, 1940.

The officers of the organization have carried on in perfect harmony this year; they are: President, Lois Morton; Vice-president, Virginia Johnson; Recording Secretary, Betty Graham; Corresponding Secretary, Jane Howe; Rush Chairman, Joan Hixon; Treasurer, Mary Bee Fromhold; Warden, Danna Lansley; House Manager, Jean Burham; Publicity, Mary Jane Steiner; and Chaplain, Anne Marshall.

We celebrated Founder's Day in our usual manner, by sending each Founder a corsage.

The last of October we were happy to have Mrs. Richard Rutledge, our national counsellor with us. Also during October, Mrs. Ruth Windsor was entertained with a luncheon at the chapter house.

At the first of the school year we held a record dance at the chapter house. A record of your favorite tune was the price of admission. As a result we "killed two birds with one stone." Everyone had a gay social evening together, and we also added to our record repertoire.

December 4, the chapter held a "Friends Night" at the chapter house. The program featured a travel talk by Mrs. Minnie B. Link, our housemother. Also there were songs by Lois Morton, Mary Marjorie Smead, Jean Buschman and piano selections by Lorene Thomas, Virginia Pletcher, and Jane Howe. Helen Mock was chairman.

We had our Christmas party at the house on Dec. 11. Razz gifts were exchanged. We all distributed wreaths to the various sorority and fraternity houses. Our Christmas dance was Dec. 14. Bill Hart and his orchestra played for the gala affair.

Alpha Chi Omega celebrated State Day with a luncheon and dance February 22, 1941. The events were held at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

The pledges entertained the actives with a grand dance on April 5, 1941.

Naturally everyone takes an active part in Y.W.C.A., Women's League, and the girls have all given their cooperation to homecoming, school dances, Geneva Stunts, Relays and Founder's Day, etc.

Alpha Chi Omega pledges continued loyalty and their most hearty support to the future of Butler University.

Delta Delta Delta

Delta Delta Delta was founded at Boston University on Thanksgiving Eve, 1888. There are 87 chapters and 29,100 members. The Delta Lambda chapter was established on the Butler campus in 1914.

The chapter started this year with the Pearl Dinner given for the pledges. The newly-pledged were introduced to the campus at the Fall Open House.

Early in the semester, Mrs. Owen N. Calvert, Tri Delta district president, visited the sorority. Miss Marjorie Curme, endower of the library at the chapter house, was entertained at a luncheon during her visit to the city.

During the Christmas season the chapter members and their House Director, Mrs. Bessie Bryson, exchanged gifts at their annual party. The Christmas Dance featured the music of Tommy Arvin and his orchestra. The decorations were carried out in the festive season colors.

The Delta Delta Delta State Day luncheon and dance were held on February 22 at the Columbia Club.

The pledges entertained the active members on April 26 at a Pledge Dance modeled after the popular "First Nighter" idea.

Jane Hardman, Doris Krome, and Ruth Neptune were pledged later in the year.

On May Day the sorority held their traditional May Day Serenade for the faculty members, singing Tri Delta songs and leaving May baskets.

The sorority as a body participated in fostering a spirit of school loyalty and aided in sponsoring such Butler functions as Homecoming, Geneva Stunts, Relays, and Founder's Day, as well as the various dances and parties.

Delta Delta Delta rated second in scholarship for the year. Delta Lambda chapter was guided through the year under the capable leadership of Betty Foster. The other officers included Mary Bell, vice-president; Esther Gray, marshal; Dorothy Jones, recording secretary; Dorothy Jean James, treasurer, and Carol Sherman, social chairman.

Delta Gamma

Delta Gamma was founded at the Lewis School, Oxford, Mississippi, January 2, 1874. Alpha Tau was organized on the Butler Campus in 1925. Delta Gamma was among the seven sororities that made up the first National Pan-hellenic Congress, and since the year 1873 when Delta Gamma was organized as the "Delta Gamma Society" by Mary Comford Leonard, Anna Boyd Ellington, and Eva Webb Dodd the organization has grown into a high ranking, widely known society. At the beginning of the school year 1941, there were 35 collegiate chapters and more than twenty thousand Delta Gammas in the United States and Canada.

The official pin of the sorority is the golden Anchor, and its publication is known as the "Anchora" and was first issued in 1884 and now comes out four times a year. Delta Gamma became international in 1913 with the installation of our first Canadian chapter at the University of Toronto. Other philanthropies aside from the Student Loan Funds and Student Fellowships include the "Delta Gamma Clinic" at Marchienne, Belgium a permanent tribute to the services of D. G.'s in the last World War.

Many Delta Gamma's have achieved distinction in different fields of work and some of the important are: Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode, American Minister to Denmark—first woman American Diplomat; Dorothy Gardiner, novelist; Marguerite Wilkinson, poet; Hazel Vandenberg, Journalist and wife of Senator Vandenberg; and most recent, the beautiful movie actress, Brenda Joyce.

During the past year the D. G.'s on the Butler Campus have made life more interesting for themselves with various social events which were started last fall with a successful Open House, followed by a Dads' Day Banquet, a wonderful Record Dance thanks to the enthusiastic pledge class, we entertained grads at a Homecoming Luncheon, Socials, traditional Christmas Snow Ball Dance, Christmas Party for Parents, Exchange Dinners, Mother-Daughter Banquet, Spring Pledge Dance, and Senior Dance.

Delta Gamma was also one of the three sororities to win a Butler Relay sale quota prize.

The D. G.'s are looking forward to a new wing and an even more successful year with Phyllis Hadden taking Mary Clay's place at the helm.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority was founded on the DePauw University Campus in 1870. During the course of seventy-one years, seventy-five active chapters have been established in the United States and Canada with a membership of twenty-five thousand. Gamma chapter was organized at Butler in 1874, being the first sorority to come into its own on this campus.

Theta has had one desire in mind since 1874, that being to maintain a permanent residence on the fraternity row. In September 1940, the active chapter realized this hope when it moved into its new chapter house at 925 Hampton Drive.

The fall semester was introduced successfully when Theta pledged seventeen freshmen and upperclassmen who received guests at a formal tea and open house. The winter social season was highlighted by the annual Christmas Dinner-Dance, which was held at the Lincoln Hotel for both actives and pledges. It is customary for the Theta to have a mid-semester "fling" to chase away the "after exam blues", and for the second consecutive year it threw open its doors to its members and their guests for a dance at the chapter house.

Since Theta stands for high scholastic attainment, she is proud to rank first among the sorority women on the campus. Her greatest efforts are along this course of accomplishment, as may be seen by her members in most honoraries on the campus.

Gamma completed the school year by its pledges giving a dance for the active members of the chapter. This is a traditional event in so far as the pledges have completed their year's standing as "pledges". Tradition covers one extreme to the other, and so it is that the chapter gave its annual banquet and dance for the graduating seniors on June 9.

The chapter officers are Lois Jean Mathieson, president; Mary Kershner, vice-president; Lucille Bosler, recording secretary; Mary Marott, corresponding secretary; and Sally Steinbaugh, treasurer.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois in 1870. There are seventy-five active chapters; 24,000 members. Mu chapter was founded on the Butler campus in 1878. Kappa has long been a leader in Panhellenic spirit, and was the first sorority on the Butler campus to promote pledge-active meetings. Many well known people have been members of Kappa Kappa Gamma, among them the famous and well known Jessica Dragonette. Mrs. Everette M. Schofield, national president of Kappa, was a very active member of Mu chapter.

Under the capable leadership of Betty Rose Martin, the Kappas entered their sixty-third year on the Butler campus and maintained a high rank among the fraternal organizations.

To open the season, an Owl dinner was given at the chapter house in honor of the new pledges. An open house was also given to introduce the new crop of Kappa pledges to the campus. Members of the faculty as well as members of the other fraternities and sororities attended this affair. The house was decorated with fall flowers and leaves and cider and doughnuts were served.

November the first the pledges entertained the active chapter with their pledge dance. On December the twentieth the Kappas held their annual Christmas dance. A Christmas party was presented where razz gifts and other gifts were exchanged. This was followed by a serenade for the other fraternities and sororities on campus.

Also on the Kappa social calendar for the past year were a Dad's dinner, a sweetheart dinner, and a May Day Luncheon preceding the May Day festivities at the university.

The new officers for the coming year of Kappa Kappa Gamma are: President, Patty Stayton; Standards Chairman, Gene Clairmont; Pledge Adviser, Barbara Badger; Recording Secretary, Leslie Shippey; Corresponding Secretary, Evelyn Hammer; Marshall, Barbara Martin.

Geneva Stunts, in which all the organizations participate, was won in the fall by the Kappas, and a new cup is added to their trophy shelf. Another successful year for the Kappas ended with the winning of Geneva Stunts and the Bulldog Subscription contest.

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Beta Phi, women's fraternity was founded on April 28, 1867, at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, under the name of I. C. Sorosis. Today there are 84 active chapters of Pi Beta Phi, and 31,772 members.

The Butler Chapter of Pi Beta Phi, Indiana Gamma, was chartered August 27, 1897. Numbered among its charter members are Miss Emily Helming, of the Butler University faculty, and the late Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown.

In 1936 The Butler Pi Phis were fortunate in being able to move into a lovely new southern-colonial style home on fraternity row.

This year's officers of the fraternity are Joan Silberman, president; Magnolia DeHart, vice-president; Harriet Shelhorn, recording secretary; Katherine Parrish, corresponding secretary; Wilma Ambuhl, treasurer; and Jean Jackson, historian.

The sorority has had an extremely full social calendar this year, among the dates were the annual fall Barn Dance and the Christmas dance which was held the night before Christmas vacation. The State Day luncheon was held in Indianapolis on April 26. The State Day dance was held that night at the Columbia Club. In May, the pledges gave their dance at the sorority house, then the last dance of the season was given in June at the Ulen Country Club.

The first social function of the year was a formal tea, introducing our new pledges to the campus. Soon after this, followed a reception given by the chapter for Miss Elizabeth D. Ward, Dean of Women, and Mrs. Edith Harrington, house chaperon. The chapter again filled its tradition of entertaining the faculty this year with an afternoon reception.

For the first time the Pi Phis held exchange dinners with the other sororities, as well as the fraternities.

Pi Beta Phi is fortunate in having one of the most active Mother's Club on the campus. They entertained the entire chapter at Christmas and the seniors in the late spring.

In the early spring a library was dedicated to Mrs. Jessie C. Brown. It is composed of 100 books, from her private library, which were left to the organization upon her death. The dedication was sponsored by the Advisory Board, headed by Mrs. Robert S. Wild.

During Homecoming, the Pi Beta Phi house decorations were the best among the women's fraternities and they were awarded a trophy for the first prize.

Pi Beta Phi sorority is composed of girls who are very active in all campus affairs, and who strive to show the students and the faculty of Butler University that the Pi Phis are in every way "Loyal to Butler".

Zeta Tau Alpha

Zeta Tau Alpha sorority was founded at the Virginia State Normal School on October 15, 1898. There are 80 active chapters of Zeta Tau Alpha. These chapters are in Canada as well as throughout the United States.

The Alpha Delta Chapter was founded on the Butler Campus on June 5, 1920. This year's officers were Paula McClurg, president; Maribelle Foster, vice-president; Ruth Ann Lett, secretary; Rose Ellen Gray, treasurer; Virginia Davy, historian; Janet Williams, guard; and Ann Strauss, rush-captain.

One of the first activities of Zeta Tau this year was the presentation of their lovely act entitled "Drifting and Dreaming". They received honorable mention for this performance. The Zeta Tau's celebrated the Christmas season by giving a party at their sorority house. The girls also gave two bridge parties very successfully during the year.

The lovely, original Homecoming float of Zeta Tau Alpha, entitled "I, Butler, Take Thee DePauw", tied for second place in the sorority group.

The Founders' Day of Zeta Tau Alpha was celebrated on October 16 with a buffet supper at the sorority house. The Indianapolis Alumnae Association of Zeta Tau Alpha entertained the representatives of the Zeta chapters from Indiana University and Franklin College on the sorority's State Day, April 19, held at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

Province Convention was held in March at the Zeta house here in Indianapolis. Representatives staying at the house over the week-end were from Franklin College, Indiana, Northwestern, Illinois, and James Millikin Universities. Several girls of the Alpha Gamma chapter are planning to attend the national convention at Gulfport, Mississippi this summer.

The Alpha Gamma chapter has had one of its most successful years. The girls have taken part in every activity on the campus. The Zeta Tau Alpha sorority is looking forward to many more happy and successful years at Butler University.

B. I. A.

Butler Independent Association, local chapter of the National Independent Association, was organized on the Butler campus in 1932.

Butler Independent Association this year completed one of the most interesting and eventful nine months period in its history.

Raymond Hogan, president; Helen Ruegamer, vice-president; Ettajane Jordan, secretary; and Frank Kendall, treasurer, served as officers both semesters.

For the first time pledges of B.I.A. were maintained as a separate group during the pledge period. Initiation ceremonies for the 76 new members were held in the B.I.A. room in Jordan Hall December 7, followed by a banquet at the Bamboo Inn.

New national organization pins were voted to replace the local insignia during the fall semester. Selected by representatives of the nation's independents at a conclave held last year at Purdue University, the pin is round and bears the initials of the national Independent Student's Association as well as those of the local chapter.

Activities this year included entering floats in the Homecoming and Relays parades, entering the Hinkle Trophy contest, the Cheer Drive, The Doll Contest, and Geneva Stunts in the spring.

B.I.A. ranks first in men's standings and second in women's standings according to scholastic ratings among organizations on the campus. As football and basketball champions, B.I.A. holds intramural competition honors.

The social program included spreads, mixers, and the annual picnic to a state park.

The B.I.A. Mother's Club equipped the chapter's room with new furniture, and aided the society in many ways during the year.

The Newman Club is the only group of its kind on the Butler Campus. It is a strong organization of Catholic Students to promote social and business activities for those students.

The most successful event of this year was the "Blue Book Hop". This dance was held in the field house after the final exams of the first semester. The entire campus congratulates the Newman Club upon its success in this affair and sincerely hopes that it will be an annual event.

Among the other affairs sponsored by the Newman Club were several luncheons, Campus Club dances for the members, and a Communion Breakfast. A steak fry held in the spring was the closing function of the year.

This year the Newman Club, under the capable leadership of Jack Evard, has had one of its most successful years.

Trianon, non-Greek sorority, was founded on the Butler Campus in 1929. The purpose of this social group is to inspire democracy, fellowship, scholarship, and service among its members.

The girls of Trianon opened the year with a Back-to-School picnic party for rushees. This rush season closed after ten girls had accepted the blue and gold ribbons of Trianon. The two main events of the year consisted of a Barn Dance given in the fall by the pledges, and a Spring Dance held during the latter part of the year. Two other formal occasions were the Founders' Day Banquet held in February and the Senior Banquet held in May.

The social calendar of Trianon also had on it many spreads, teas and a Homecoming Luncheon.

This year's officers were Lucille Langley, president; Doris Brabender, vice-president; Betty Collins, corresponding secretary; Lois Lichtsinn, recording secretary; Ilene Dobson, treasurer; and Nina Switzer, Rush Captain.

Members of Trianon whose pictures are not shown are Arline Phillips, Mary Elizabeth Prosch and Kathleen Schockley.

The Trianon girls try to take part in all the campus activities in order to show their interest in the progress of Butler University.

ON MAINTAINING LEADERSHIP ...

- To win and consistently hold a place as the recognized leader of school annual printing, has been the record of Rogers Printing Company since its beginning in 1908.
- That we have, during a period of 32 years, successfully produced hundreds of annuals for schools throughout the country, attests our ability to satisfy completely the most discriminating Year Book Staff.
- New ideas, coupled with the knowledge and experience gained through a quarter of a century's service, insure the school that chooses a Rogers printed book of ideal pages "From Start to Finish."
- We are proud that the staff of THE DRIFT entrusted its printing to our organization and we herewith present it as an example of our work.

*Watch a Lady
Sipping*

NEXT TIME you see a lady order 7-Up, notice how she sips it slowly. Naturally she enjoys the delicate flavor, the super-refined quality of clear, uncolored 7-Up. But there's something more. She has an indefinable air of assurance, of pride . . . yes, pride that she is showing the best of taste in her choice of the "fresh up" drink.

That's how people feel about 7-Up. They want to be seen drinking it. It is the sign of those who know.

So we come to the conclusion . . . the year is gone
. . . College is done. This book is only a few chapters of a series of volumes—many of which have not yet been written—that make up the story of your life. It is the hope of the staff that edited this volume, that you will find the 1941 DRIFT a most happy and faithful recording of events and experiences to be remembered.
